Under the Gun in Iraq Robert Cole,2010-05-04 A sobering read from another lost front Kirkus ReviewsWhat happens when you drop an experienced American cop in the middle of a war zone with very little preparation or support to train Iraqi police Under the Gun in Iraq tells you in high fidelity detail about this vital aspect of U S efforts to build a nation BRYAN VILA Ph D Professor at Washington State University former Marine Los Angeles police officer and cross cultural police trainerOne moment I was standing there with my buddies unloading a truck The next moment my ears picked up the distinct pssst sound homing in on us Hit the ground someone yelled Right behind the first mortar was a second then a third then a fourth They each slammed into the earth with an enormous impact The ground shook The eight story building above us shuddered and we all covered our heads when the windows blew out As I lay there with glass and debris raining down on me all I could think was Holy shit what did I get myself into President Bush is fond of saying When Iraq can stand up America can stand down A large part of standing up is having a well trained police force in place to maintain peace and order Why is it taking so long to put a solid police force together How prepared are the Iraqis to carry out their duties What pitfalls are Americans facing as they try to get Iraqi police up to speed In this book Robert Cole a retired California police officer hired by DynCorp as an international police trainer presents a vivid account of the challenges of training the Iraqis to handle their own security In blunt everyday language Cole gives the reader an unusually candid and often hair raising glimpse into reality at the street level as he and his colleagues navigate the dangerous sectors of Baghdad Tikrit and Kirkuk dodging explosions and bullets aimed at them by young Iraqi wannabe heroes Cole describes situations not shown in the media that fly in the face of the party line from Washington men in their sixties being hired as policemen Iraqi detectives who extract information from people by ramming toothpicks under their fingernails officers suggesting that the best way to subdue potential suspects who flee is by shooting them in the back police hunkered down in their barracks who refuse to patrol neighborhoods for fear of violence an enemy that easily blends into a population armed to the teeth with loaded AK 47s and the routine frustrations of cultural and language barriers to communication In sharp contrast to the usual bromides about staying the course Under the Gun in Iraq paints a brutally realistic picture of the bleak perilous road ahead This is essential reading for all Americans seeking an honest understanding of the dire situation in Iraq Robert Cole was a police officer for over 25 years He retired from the force in East Palo Alto California where he was one of the commanders that helped bring the city back from its status as the murder capital of the United States Cole recently finished almost two years in the United Nations Peacekeeping Mission in Haiti He served a one year tour of duty working for DynCorp as an international police trainer in Iraq and will be redeployed for another in 2008 Jan Hogan Las Vegas NV is an award winning staff writer for Stephens Media who writes for View newspapers and has published numerous articles in AAA s Motorland now Via Law Order and other publications She is currently writing her next book on dyslexia
