UNEP Handbook for Drafting Laws on Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy Resources United Nations Environment Programme, 2007 This Handbook is written in response to needs expressed by developing countries for assistance in drafting legislative provisions for promotion of energy efficiency and renewable energy and particularly their environmental dimensions It addresses the key environmental and implementation issues and presents legislative options for both developed and developing countries for dealing with them including sample excerpts from legislation Publisher s description Energy Planning in Selected European Regions - Methods for Evaluating the Potential of Renewable Energy Sources Beata Sliz-Szkliniarz, 2014-07-31 Given their potentially positive impact on climate protection and the preservation of fossil resources alternative energy sources have become increasingly important for the energy supply over the past years However the questions arises what economic and ecological impacts and potential conflicts over land use resources are associated with the promotion of renewable energy production Using the examples of three selected European Regions in Poland France and German the dissertation discusses these questions and examines the potential and consequences of an intensified usage of renewable energy sources , Wind Energy 1975-1985 Penny Farmer, 2012-12-06 Building to Resist the Effect of Wind Richard D. Marshall, 1977 The Bloomsbury Handbook of Sonic Methodologies Michael Bull, Marcel Cobussen, 2020-12-10 The field of Sound Studies has changed and developed dramatically over the last two decades involving a vast and dizzying array of work produced by those working in the arts social sciences and sciences The study of sound is inherently interdisciplinary and is undertaken both by those who specialize in sound and by others who wish to include sound as an intrinsic and indispensable element in their research This is the first resource to provide a wide ranging cross cultural and interdisciplinary investigation and analysis of the ways in which researchers use a broad range of methodologies in order to pursue their sonic investigations It brings together 49 specially commissioned chapters that ask a wide range of questions including how can sound be used in current academic disciplines Is sound as a methodological tool indispensable for Sound Studies and what can sound artists contribute to the discourse on methodology in Sound Studies The editors also present 3 original chapters that work as provocative sonic methodological interventions prefacing the 3 sections of the book Federal Register Index , 1979 Journal of Research of the National Bureau of Standards United States. Research and Development Abstracts , 1977 TOMORROW IS TODAY, A behavior modification methodology, guide, and workbook to manage the job search process Lawrence D. Alter, 1901 This 240 page workbook is a highly effective no nonsense self marketing instrument to facilitate and manage the entire job search campaign Contained in its pages are all the tools and information necessary to help your terminated employee win and keep their next job Whether or not you provide Outplacement support to your separated employees our workbook would be an excellent tool to augment their job search It provides a complete resource to help the discharged worker achieve and keep their next position FINDING A JOB IS HARD WORK It has been estimated that as many as one out of every three workers attempts to change jobs annually in the United States Out of a labor force of 153 million that represents almost 50 000 000 job seekers who are seeking new employment each year As a result the job search process is highly competitive at all levels It can be lengthy frustrating prejudicial and unfair Older more traditional job finding techniques have become less productive The traditional resume no longer has the same impact in generating the all important and often elusive interview Both the Wall Street Journal and USA TODAY have highlighted the fact that only about 15% of all professionals find a new position through responding to published advertisements or online postings another 10% through placement agencies or search firms and only 5% through unsolicited direct mail Why then would anyone focus 90% of their time and effort in areas that represent only about 30% of all potential opportunities It is not uncommon for 200 300 people to respond to help wanted advertisements Yet seldom do more than 6 to 10 people achieve interviews and after an often lengthy process only one person gets the job Everyone else starts the whole process again Older Americans women and minorities can often face an even more difficult road due to unspoken but ever present biases There is a better way Tomorrow Is Today dispels the myth that the most qualified candidate always gets the job It points out that the person who is hired is usually the one who is liked the best This book can be a major factor in how you differentiate yourself from other candidates when the hiring decision is almost always based upon subjective factors such as the individual s personality style body language and manner of being interviewed It is an invaluable resource in helping you to achieve your next position with added features that assist in effectively managing both career growth and family issues Solar Energy Update ,1979 A.I.D. Research and Development Abstracts United States. Agency for International Development,1976 Federal Register, ... Annual Index ,1977 Practicing Qualitative Methods in Health Geographies Nancy E. Fenton,Jamie Baxter,2016-07-15 Health geographers are increasingly turning to a diverse range of interpretative methodologies to explore the complexities of health illness space and place to gain more comprehensive understandings of well being and broader social models of health and health care Drawing upon postmodernism many health geographers are concerned with issues of representation the body and health care policy Also related to an emphasis on the body is the growing literature in feminist health geography that investigates the metaphorical physical and emotional challenges of the body and disease Reflecting these interests the chapters in this book set out the host of creative qualitative methods being used to explore the psychosocial experiences of individuals more directly using such traditional methods as in depth interviews and group discussions participant observation diaries and discourse analysis but also more novel techniques such as go along interviews reflexive writing illustrations and photographic techniques There are several areas of qualitative research unique to geographers which figure prominently in this volume including health and place comparative case study analysis and qualitative approaches to the use of geographic information systems GIS This collection brings together a wide range of empirical concerns related to questions of health and shines a light on the diversity of qualitative methods in practice Illustrating how qualitative methodologies are used in diverse health contexts this book fills an important niche for health geographers but will have wide appeal to health and geographic researchers Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports ,1995
