Sentencing Rape Graeme Brown, 2020-05-14 This book presents an in-depth comparative study of sentencing practice for rape in six common law jurisdictions: England and Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, New Zealand and South Africa. It provides a thorough review of the medical literature on the physical and psychological effects of rape, the legal and philosophical literature on the seriousness of the offence and the victim's role in sentencing. Given the increasingly common practice of perpetrators using mobile and online technologies to film or photograph the commission of sexual offences, the book examines recent socio-legal research on technology-facilitated sexual violence and considers the implications for sentencing. By building on recent scholarship on judicial decision-making in sentencing and case law comprising over 250 decisions of the relevant appellate courts, the book explores and critically analyses judicial approaches to rape sentencing. The analysis is undertaken with a view to suggesting possible reforms to rape sentencing in non-guideline jurisdictions. In so doing, this book seeks to establish general principles for sentencing rape, assisting in the imposition of proportionate sentences. This book will be of interest to judges and practising lawyers, to those researching criminal law, criminal justice, criminology and gender studies, and to policy makers including sentencing councils and commissions in common law.

jurisdictions worldwide Court of Appeal Criminal Division Susan Holdham, Alix Beldam, 2012 Presents commentary on and analysis of the European Union and its substantive law This book covers the constitutional structure of the EU examining the functioning of the institutions the jurisdiction of the European Court of Justice and the nature of the European legal order It serves as a reference work for legal practitioners Criminal Sentencing as Practical Wisdom Graeme Brown, 2017-06-01 How do judges sentence In particular how important is judicial discretion in sentencing Sentencing guidelines are often said to promote consistency but is consistency in sentencing achievable or even desirable Whilst the passing of a sentence is arguably the most public stage of the criminal justice process there have been few attempts to examine judicial perceptions of and attitudes towards the sentencing process Through interviews with Scottish judges and by presenting a comprehensive review and analysis of recent scholarship on sentencing including a comparative study of UK Irish and Commonwealth sentencing jurisprudence this book explores these issues to present a systematic theory of sentencing Through an integration of the concept of equity as particularised justice the Aristotelian concept of phronesis or practical wisdom the concept of value pluralism and the focus of appellate courts throughout the Commonwealth on sentencing by way of instinctive synthesis it is argued that judicial sentencing methodology is best viewed in terms of a phronetic synthesis of the relevant facts and circumstances of the particular case The author concludes that sentencing is best conceptualised as a form of case orientated concrete and intuitive decision making one that seeks individualisation through judicial recognition of the profoundly contextualised nature of the process
