Write, 100 Days of Journaling Medinilla, 2019-06-28 This kid's writing prompt journal is perfect for students, teachers, and homeschool parents alike. This paperback journal can be used in the classroom or at home to help develop strong writing skills. Students will have an opportunity to express themselves through creative writing and also develop their artistic side through creative drawing. This workbook is aligned to the common core standards as children write narratives in which they recount personal events and they write opinion pieces in which they state their opinion while supplying reasons to support those opinions. This writing journal for kids comes with 100 prompts and a box space to draw. The notebook features include 1 prompt per page. It is at standard 8.5x11 inches.

Learning Journals in the K-8 Classroom Marcia S. Popp, 2012-11-12 Learning Journals in the K-8 Classroom is the first comprehensive presentation of how to use academic journals effectively for elementary level instruction. The text outlines the theoretical foundations for using learning journals and provides step by step suggestions for implementing them in every content area and at all levels of elementary instruction. Learning journals provide resources and support for reading aloud, independent reading, mini lessons, cooperative study, individual research, workshops, and the portfolio system. The type of interactive writing students do in learning journals helps them explore complex ideas in the content areas using their own strengths of analysis and response. The journals then become resources for future learning, group discussions, individual conferences, learning assessment reports, and progress. Four introductory chapters show teachers how to create their own journals, introduce journals to students, integrate them with cooperative study, and use them for assessment. Additional chapters focus on the individual curriculum areas of literature, writing, mathematics, science, and social studies. The text includes sample entries from student journals at all grade levels and in every content area and appendices of annotated resources to support journaling and interviews with teachers who use journals in their classrooms.

1st Grade Writing Journal with Alphabet Practice Macy McCullough, 2015-04-17 The development of good reading and writing skills is essential not only for success in school but also for success in life. Writing daily will help your student develop their writing skills. Practicing sentence development is a fundamental key to becoming an excellent writer. The 1st Grade Writing Journal can be used in conjunction with ready-made story starters. It can be used daily by student writers to record their daily activities, adventures, and imaginative thoughts. Journals can help students clarify their thoughts. Taking time to jot down feelings and thoughts about daily events can give young writers an opportunity to discover what they think and how they feel about different topics. Writing in a journal is comfortable for beginning writers because it is a casual and informal process. It isn't structured or graded. Students are allowed to free write and become immersed in expression. Students should be allowed to write about different topics which will give them the opportunity to improve their writing skills while exploring their thoughts without being chastised for grammar usage or other errors. Let this journal be an idea book, a place where the student is free to think in writing.
