A valuable by-product of writing up mathematical material, is that often one finds gaps and errors in what one has written.

Now it is well-known in all branches of learning, but in particular in mathematical learning, that the way to learn is to do, rather than to read. It is all too common to read through some material, convince oneself that one understands it well, but then find oneself at sea when trying to apply it in even a slightly different situation. Moreover, material understood only at a shallow level is easily forgotten.

It is therefore our strong recommendation that readers of the book should not look at our responses to any of the exercises before making a substantial effort to understand it without this aid. Any time spent in this way, even if it ends without success, will make our solutions
