Autobiography

4 December 2012

My name is Maria Angelina Bacarella. I was born on March 7, 1995, in Tawas City, Michigan. My parents are James and Michelle Bacarella, and I have three younger siblings, Sophia, Alex, and Samuel. I attended Holy Family Catholic School in East Tawas from kindergarten until sixth grade. While there I participated in band, choir, Girl Scouts, Council of Catholic Girls, volleyball, softball, and basketball. I was on honor roll and received an academic achievement award. Attending a catholic school helped me to grow academically, in my faith, and as a person, giving me high moral standards. In seventh and eighth grade I attended Tawas Junior High. I was involved in volleyball, basketball, softball, and Club PRIDE. I was on honor roll every semester, and received the presidential academic award.

I currently attend Tawas High School. I am involved in Iosco Pride, Spanish club, liturgical dance, youth group, Student Senate, volleyball, soccer, and National Honor Society. I currently have a 3.88 cumulative g.p.a. and am 8th in my class of 117. Though my school, I go to coop every day for two hours in the 81st District court. While there I have learned many school that pertain to a future career in law. I file papers, type bonds, and observe court. This has given me first-hand experience identifying legal documents and understanding how to proceed in court.

I have am very motivated to create the best possible future for myself, and have worked very hard to set that up. I have been on the honor roll every marking period thus far in my high school career. I received my academic and athletics varsity letters, an honors pass, the hustle

History, Historians, and Autobiography Jeremy D. Popkin, 2005-05-09 Though history and autobiography both claim to tell true stories about the past historians have traditionally rejected first person accounts as subjective and therefore unreliable What then asks Jeremy D Popkin in History Historians and Autobiography are we to make of the ever increasing number of professional historians who are publishing stories of their own lives And how is this recent development changing the nature of history writing the historical profession and the genre of autobiography Drawing on the theoretical work of contemporary critics of autobiography and the philosophy of Paul Ricoeur Popkin reads the autobiographical classics of Edward Gibbon and Henry Adams and the memoirs of contemporary historians such as Emmanuel Le Roy Ladurie Peter Gay Jill Ker Conway and many others he reveals the contributions historians life stories make to our understanding of the human experience Historians autobiographies he shows reveal how scholars arrive at their vocations the difficulties of writing about modern professional life and the ways in which personal stories can add to our understanding of historical events such as war political movements and the traumas of the Holocaust An engrossing overview of the way historians view themselves and their profession this work will be of interest to readers concerned with the ways in which we understand the past as well as anyone interested in the art of life writing

College Writing and Beyond Anne Beaufort, 2008-02-06 Composition research consistently demonstrates that the social context of writing determines the majority of conventions any writer must observe Still most universities organize the required first year composition course as if there were an intuitive set of general writing skills usable across academic and work world settings In College Writing and Beyond A New Framework for University Writing Instruction Anne Beaufort reports on a longitudinal study comparing one student s experience in FYC in history in engineering and in his post college writing Her data illuminate the struggle of college students to transfer what they learn about general writing from one context to another Her findings suggest ultimately not that we must abolish FYC but that we must go beyond even genre theory in reconceiving it Accordingly Beaufort would argue that the FYC course should abandon its hope to teach a sort of general academic discourse and instead should systematically teach strategies of responding to contextual elements that impinge on the writing situation Her data urge attention to issues of learning transfer and to developmentally sound linkages in writing instruction within and across disciplines Beaufort advocates special attention to discourse community theory for its power to help students perceive and understand the context of writing

The Politics of the Essay Ruth-Ellen B. Joeres, Elizabeth Mittman, 1993-08-22 The Politics of the Essay is that rare scholarly work that provides both a history of this relatively new field and of its formal characteristics and inspires its readers to want to participate in the making of this history Signs The first in depth study of the relationship between women and essays Employing gender race class and national identity as axes of analysis this volume introduces new perspectives into what has been a largely apolitical discussion of the essay Includes an original essay by Susan Griffin

Autobiography and Independence Debra Kelly, 2005-01-01 In Autobiography and Independence Debra Kelly examines four accomplished Francophone North African writers Mouland Feroan Assia Djébar Albert Memmi and Abdelkeacut bir Khatibi to illuminate the complex relationship of a writer's work to cultural and national histories The legacies of colonialism and the difficulties of nationalism run throughout all four writers' works yet in their striking individuality the four demonstrate the ways in which such heritages are refracted through a writer's personal history This book will be of interest to students of Francophone literature colonialism and African history and culture

Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e g the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers

The Memoirs of Princess Dashkova Ekaterina R. Daškova, 1995 This memoir tell the story of a woman who at age eighteen played an important role in the coup that brought Catherine the Great to the throne The relationship between these two women often tense is a central theme throughout this story Dashkova occupying the highly unusual position of both stateswoman and mother also reveals her own path between the demands and limitations of the private and public spheres of her society She provides a view of the expectations of Russian aristocratic women the possibilities available to them and the ways in which gender roles were conceived in the eighteenth century book cover

Autobiography and Natural Science in the Age of Romanticism Bernhard Kuhn, 2016-04-15 Set against the backdrop of a rapidly fissuring disciplinary landscape where poetry and science are increasingly viewed as irreconcilable and unrelated Bernhard Kuhn s study uncovers a previously ignored fundamental connection between autobiography and the natural sciences Examining the autobiographies and scientific writings of Rousseau Goethe and Thoreau as representative of their ages Kuhn challenges the now entrenched thesis of the two cultures Rather these three writers are exemplary in that their autobiographical and scientific writings may be read not as separate or even antithetical but as mutually constitutive projects that challenge the newly emerging boundaries between scientific and humanistic thought during the Romantic period Reading each writer s life stories and nature works side by side as they were written Kuhn reveals the scientific character of autobiographical writing while demonstrating the autobiographical nature of natural science He considers all three writers in the context of scientific developments in their own times as well as ours showing how each one marks a distinctive stage in the growing estrangement of the arts and sciences from the self assured epistemic unity of Rousseau s time to the splintering of disciplines into competing ways of knowing under the pressures of specialization and professionalization during the late Romantic age of Thoreau His book thus traces an unfolding drama in which these writers and their contemporaries each situated in an intellectual landscape more fragmented than the last seek to keep together what modern culture is determined to break apart
