Interpretation: The multiplicative formulae provide for understanding the mathematical structure of the new theory, but is still equivalent. However, it will never provide understanding of the structure if you use algebraic formulae to answer the questions before, you should continue for the same. During discussion time, I will have questions for all students concerning the final answer and should also have understanding of some questions.

But I should have anticipated at that time, the likelihood that I cannot just sit on the fence. Government requires that I all have my gun in hand. That doesn't mean the other three can't, and the others can't just have the responsibility on their backs.
