

High-Speed Channel 2000 is a new Programmable Transceiver providing standard J45-14 for building heating and cooling systems.

- Full processing program available; different subroutines and temperature segments can be entered for accuracy to match the furnace's flexible schedule
- Easy to use; makes programming, access and modification for the transfer and furnace
- Display Savings View (DSV) for quick change to and from the Light Savings View
- Modular available with programmable fan operation for quiet furnace control
- Easy-to-access temperature input changes for manual control; includes 10 to 1000 sec. or indefinite hold times for the furnace control and energy savings
- Most frequently used keys are located by the Liquid Crystal Display (LCD) for quick and easy access to information
- Alternative display configurations are shown in the furnace's display
- Back lighting for large display makes the LCD easy even in dark

- Models available with outdoor temperature sensor supporting the thermostat's convenience. The sensor is also more accurate than a thermostat.
- Configurable features allow one model to be used to replace many different models (one inventory, no longer need to carry separate models to perform feature).
- For 1 temperature display
 - automatic to current temperature
 - display in conventional heat loss operation
 - adjustable heating cycle rate
- Minimum of time for cooling compressors and heat pumps protects the equipment and reduces the equipment life.
- Easy installation, setup and system test saves install time and increases productivity.
- System test completes troubleshooting and saves time by overriding the low display.
- Adaptive intelligent thermostat control keeps the room temperature to temperature setpoint at the programmed time, minimizing comfort and energy savings.
- Features are permanently stored in memory (no batteries used) and retained during power outages to increase stability and thermostat convenience.
- Datasheet Download™ Thermostat guide available for added service.
