45. Abstract: [54792] The authors use the results obtained from a 1990 survey of 1,000 U.S. households to examine the relationship between the use of the Internet and the use of other information sources. The results show that the use of the Internet is positively related to the use of other information sources, but the relationship is not statistically significant. The authors conclude that the use of the Internet is not a substitute for other information sources.
