Teacher Education Policy Rob McBride, 2003-12-16 To improve schools we need to improve teachers This volume provides recent research evidence that suggests that current education policy is not Promoting Effective Teacher Education And That Teacher Education Policy has failed to support the formation of professional partnerships in initial teacher education has almost ignored the induction of newly qualified teachers and has narrowed in service education into support for the implementation of central policy The evidence gathered in this book is used to argue for new forms of teacher education in every phase built upon the foundation of professional partnership between schools and institutions of higher education It is suggested that the funding for such changes could be drawn from less effective forms of school improvement such as National Curriculum development and school inspection With the implementation of such changes it is argued good quality teacher education programmes would prosper and foster a broad consensus about educational development that is often absent
