has become an increasingly normalised mode of influencing policy demanding service delivery and forcing change Protest is constitutive of South Africa s democratic politics but also reflective of it Protest in South Africa Rejection reassertion reclamation explores the underpinnings of contemporary protest and both its short term causes and structural drivers Focusing on the surge of protest from the mid 2000s this edited volume provides an overview of the complexity of protest action the diversity of protest spaces and actors and responses to protest from both citizens and state The volume situates its analysis against the backdrop of the global wave of protest witnessed since the turn of the 21 century while examining protest in South Africa's local and historical contexts Contributors to the volume examine protests in relation to among other factors provision of infrastructure and services contestations around socio economic development issues of citizenship and demands for inclusive democratic governance Chapters also examine the role of women in protest action the policing of protest and the intersection of protest action with spaces of formal politics. The volume also alerts us to the darker side of protest and the destruction and division it may foment It thus considers the prospects of South Africa's evolving sometimes violent protest terrain for social and state stability and democratic progress In the diversity of spaces sectors and communities of interests in which collective action has emerged Protest in South Africa Rejection reassertion reclamation shows how protest is underpinned by a rejection of the status quo a reassertion of interests and a reclaiming of the political Critiquing Evidence-Based Policing in Britain Paul Betts, 2024-07-03 Evidence Based Policing EBP and democratic space exerts significant influence on how actors think act and speak about UK policing to the point that it is becoming institutionalised Inspired by the insights of Michel Foucault into power knowledge governmentality and institutional reform over time this book provides a comprehensive account of the emergence of EBP in Britain as well as original discourse analysis and analytical research into the texts produced by EBP It presents a new history of EBP presented around EBP s story lines subject positions and the institutional changes it has created This history shows EBP shares a genealogical heritage with modern discourses of managerialism and neoliberalism EBP s roots are traced and it is re presented as an extension of the problematic relationship in the production of criminological knowledge and the British state This history fundamentally challenges the notion on which EBP rests basing policing policy upon independent robust knowledge Instead this book argues EBP should be subject to greater illumination and challenge suggesting EBP is a contestable device that is doing political work It speaks to those interested in policing critical criminology and political science Parliamentary Debates (Hansard).
