Subject :	Date :
1. $y = f(x), f'(x) = 2e^x + e^{-2x}$
(i) Stationary point, $f'(x) = 0$
$2e^x + e^{-2x} = 0$
Let $e^x = a$
$2a + a^{-2} = 0$
$2a + \frac{1}{a^2} = 0$
$2a^3 + 1 = 0$
$2a^3 = -1$
$a^3 = -\frac{1}{2}$
$\therefore a^3 = -0.5$
$\therefore e^x = -0.5$
$x = \ln(-0.5) = \text{undefined}$
$\therefore f(x)$ has no stationary point
(ii) $\int f'(x) dx = \int 2e^x + e^{-2x} dx$	$\frac{d}{dx} e^{-2x} = -2e^{-2x}$
$= 2 \int e^x dx + \int e^{-2x} dx$
$= 2e^x + C_1 + (-\frac{1}{2}) \int 2e^{-2x} dx$
$= 2e^x + C_1 - \frac{1}{2} (e^{-2x}) + C_2$
$= 2e^x - \frac{1}{2} e^{-2x} + C$
$(0, 2)$:
$2 - \frac{1}{2} + C = 2$
$-\frac{1}{2} + C = 0$
$C = \frac{1}{2}$
$\therefore y = f(x) = 2e^x - \frac{1}{2} e^{-2x} + \frac{1}{2}$
2i. $\frac{d}{dx} [\ln(\cos x)] = \frac{-\sin x}{\cos x}$
$= -\tan x$ (shown).
2. $\frac{d}{dx} (x \tan x) = \tan x + x \sec^2 x$

Almost Periodic Type Solutions Marko Kostić, 2025-03-03 Maybe for the first time in the existing literature we investigate here the almost periodic type solutions to the abstract Volterra difference equations depending on several variables We also investigate the generalized almost periodic type sequences and their applications in a rather detailed manner as well as many new important spaces of metrically generalized almost periodic type spaces of sequences and functions We essentially apply some results from the theory of C regularized solution operator families to the abstract Volterra integro differential difference equations contributing also to the theory of fractional calculus and fractional differential equations The theory of abstract Volterra integro differential equations and the theory of abstract Volterra difference equations are very attractive fields of research of many authors The almost periodic features and the asymptotically almost periodic features of solutions to the abstract Volterra differential difference equations in Banach spaces have been sought in many research articles published by now The main aim of this monograph is to continue the work collected in my monographs published with W de Gruyter recently by providing several new results about the existence and uniqueness of almost periodic type solutions to the abstract Volterra integro differential difference equations which could be solvable or unsolvable with respect to the highest derivative order We would like to particularly emphasize that this is probably the first research monograph devoted to the study of almost periodic type solutions to the abstract Volterra difference equations depending on several variables We also consider here many new important spaces of metrically generalized almost periodic type spaces of sequences and functions and their almost automorphic analogues It is also worth noting that this is probably the first research monograph which concerns the generalized almost periodic type sequences and their applications in a rather detailed manner for the first time in the existing literature we also present here some applications of results from the theory of C regularized solution operator families to the abstract Volterra difference equations Fractional calculus and discrete fractional calculus are rapidly growing fields of theoretical and applied mathematics which are incredibly important in modeling of various real phenomena appearing in different fields like aerodynamics rheology interval valued systems chaotic systems with short memory and image encryption and discrete time recurrent neural networks Many important research results regarding the abstract fractional differential equations and the abstract fractional difference equations in Banach spaces have recently been obtained by a great number of authors from the whole world In this monograph we also contribute to the theories of discrete fractional calculus fractional differential difference equations and multi dimensional Laplace transform Although the monograph is far from being complete we have decided to quote almost eight hundred and fifty research articles which could be of some importance to the interested readers for further developments of the theory established here Recent

Lambert, 2024-04-15 Every child has a right to make sense of math and to use math to make sense of their worlds Despite their gifts students with disabilities are often viewed from a deficit standpoint in mathematics classrooms These students are often conceptualized as needing to be fixed or remediated Rethinking Disability and Mathematics argues that mathematics should be a transformative space for these students a place where they can discover their power and potential and be appreciated for their many strengths Author Rachel Lambert introduces Universal Design for Learning for Math UDL Math a way to design math classrooms that empowers disabled and neurodiverse students to engage in mathematics in ways that lead to meaningful and joyful math learning The book showcases how UDL Math can open up mathematics classrooms so that they provide access to meaningful understanding and an identity as a math learner to a wider range of students Weaved throughout the book are the voices of neurodiverse learners telling their own stories of math learning Through stories of real teachers recognizing the barriers in their own math classrooms and redesigning to increase access the book Reframes students with disabilities from a deficit to an asset perspective paving the way for trusting their mathematical thinking Offers equitable math instruction for all learners including those with disabilities neurodiverse students and or multilingual learners Applies UDL to the math classroom providing practical tips and techniques to support students cognitive affective and strategic development Immerses readers in math classrooms where all students are engaged in meaningful mathematics from special education day classes to inclusive general education classrooms from grades K 8 Integrates research on mathematical learning including critical math content such as developing number sense and place value fluency with math facts and operations and understanding fractions and algebraic thinking Explores critical issues such as writing IEP goals in math This book is designed for all math educators both those trained as general education teachers and those trained as special education teachers The UDL Math approach is adapted to work for all learners because everyone varies in how they perceive the world and in how they approach mathematical problem solving When we rethink mathematics to include multiple ways of being a math learner we make math accessible and engaging for a wider group of learners
