Racial Politics in an Era of Transnational Citizenship Michael Chang, 2004-01-01 Following 1996 s Asian Donorgate campaign finance controversy Chinese Americans and by proxy all Asian Americans were depicted in U S public discourse as foreigners subversively attempting to buy influence with U S politicians Racial Politics in an Era of Transnational Citizenship asks Will the perception of the Asian American as the perpetual foreigner continue to reproduce itself uncritically heightening during times of media supported nationalism Scholar Michael Chang s incisive work contributes greatly to current debates on civil rights and on the meaning of citizenship and belonging among a transnational community and in a globalized world Tempo ,2006 Religion and the Politics of Peace and Conflict Linda Hogan, Dylan Lee Lehrke, 2009-01-01 The Connections Between Religion And Violence are Complex and multifaceted From the conflicts in Middle East and the Balkans to those in Southeast Asia and beyond religion frames and legitimates political violence Moreover in international relations since 9 11 religious language and metaphors have acquired a new significance In this context the emerging consensus appears to be not only that violence is intrinsic to religion but also that religions incite legitimate and intensify political violence However such an unambiguous indictment of religions is incomplete in that it fails both to appreciate significant counter examples and to recognize the diversity that exists within religions on the issue of violence particularly the religious roots of pacifism and the ethics of non violence This collection explores aspects of this ambivalence between religion and violence It focuses on traditions of legitimation and pacifism within the three monotheistic religions Judaism Christianity and Islam and concludes with an examination of this ambivalence as it unfolds in each tradition s engagement with the politics of gender The essays in this collection suggest that the tasks of ameliorating irrational fears and encouraging the recognition of irreducible interreligious complementarity are tasks that can and should be shared by Christianity Judaism and Islam Moreover these traditions are replete with exemplars both historical and contemporary who
