The Asian Yearbook of Human Rights and Humanitarian Law aims to publish peer reviewed scholarly articles and reviews as well as significant developments in human rights and humanitarian law It examines international human rights and humanitarian law with a global reach though its particular focus is on the Asian region The focused theme of Volume 2 is Islamic Law and its Implementation in Asia and the Middle East      Leading the Police Kim Stevenson, David Cox, Iain Channing, 2018-03-12 In 2015 the College of Policing published its Leadership Review with specific reference to the type of leadership required to ensure that the next generation of Chief Constables and their management approach will be fit for purpose Three key issues were highlighted as underpinning the effective leadership and management of contemporary policing hierarchy culture and consistency Yet these are not just relevant to modern policing having appeared as constant features implicitly and explicitly since the creation of the first provincial constabularies in 1835 This collection reviews the history of the UK Chief Constable reflecting on the shifts and continuities in police leadership style practice and performance over the past 180 years critiquing the factors affecting their operational management and how these impacted upon the organization and service delivery of their forces The individuality of Chief Constables significantly impacts on how national and local strategies are implemented shaping relationships with their respective communities and local authorities Importantly the book addresses not just the English experience but considers the role of Chief Constables in the whole of the United Kingdom highlighting the extent to which they could exercise autonomous authority over their force and populace The historical perspective adopted contextualises existing considerations of leadership in modern policing and the extensive timeframe and geographical reach beyond the experience of the Metropolitan force enables a direct engagement with contemporary debates It also offers a valuable addition to the existing literature contributing to the institutional memory of UK policing The contributors represent a range of disciplines including history law criminology and leadership studies and some also have practical policing experience      Digital Indonesia Edwin Jurriens,2018-02-14 This book places Indonesia at the forefront of the global debate about the impact of disruptive digital technologies Digital technology is fast becoming the core of life work culture and identity Yet while the number of Indonesians using the Internet has followed the upward global trend some groups e the poor the elderly women the less well educated people living in remote communitiess are disadvantaged This interdisciplinary collection of essays by leading researchers and scholars as well as e governance and e commerce insiders examines the impact of digitalisation on the media industry governance commerce informal sector employment education cybercrime terrorism religion artistic and cultural expression and much more It presents groundbreaking analysis of the impact of digitalisation in one of the world s most diverse geographically vast nations In weighing arguments about the opportunities and challenges presented by digitalisation it puts the very idea of a technological revolution into critical perspective      Applied Policing Policy Research Paul Dawson,2025-07-08 This volume critically examines how the integration of evidence based research within police governance reshapes accountability decision making and policy development Focusing on the transition of a well established police research unit from the Metropolitan Police Service to the London Police and Crime Commissioner s office in 2014 the book explores the broader implications of this move for data driven oversight and police practice Bringing together contributions from experts directly involved in this transition the chapters combine original research case studies and applied analysis to demonstrate how evidence informs policing at both strategic and operational levels The book introduces the concept of evidence based oversight offering a new framework for understanding the evolving role of research in shaping police governance and accountability structures With insights for PCC staff police professionals policymakers and scholars this volume provides a critical perspective on how empirical research can enhance policing practices drive reform and strengthen oversight mechanisms within criminal justice systems      The Short Guide to Criminal Justice Lisa O'Malley,Sharon Grace,2018-02-05 The Short Guide to Criminal Justice provides a comprehensive yet concise introduction to the current state of the criminal justice system in the United Kingdom a subject often subsumed in larger discussions of crime and criminology Avoiding an overtly legalistic or philosophical approach Lisa Jayne O Malley and Sharon Elizabeth Grace offer an accessible entry point for students and researchers across disciplines who seek to better understand a range of key criminal justice issues Also exploring the experience of criminal justice in relation to inequality a subject of increasing urgency both in the United Kingdom and internationally this book serves as a foundation for further investigation and discussion      The Rise and Rise of Illegal Ticket Touting Alessandro Moretti,2023-02-10 This book presents an ethnographic study of contemporary ticket touts in the UK Despite the recent interest in the topic of black market ticket sales media coverage and parliamentary interventions over the last ten years have revealed a widespread lack of knowledge with regard to the phenomenon of touting and the players engaging in the practice. The Rise and Rise of Illegal Ticket Touting sheds light on the world of touting and delivers an authentic picture of the individuals involved of their methods values and motivations for performing ticket touting as an organised entrepreneurial deviant activity. The touts varied methods of buying and selling tickets the hierarchical structures and strict ethos of their criminal organisations and their specific modi operandi for evading detection and arrest both on the streets and online are focal points of the study. Of equal importance are the touts attitudes perceptions and adaptations to or outright dismissal of society's legal and moral frameworks. This book illuminates why historic and renewed attempts to challenge ticket touting have been unsuccessful focusing on inadequate legislation a lack of enforcement and the widespread corruption and exploitable loopholes that exist within the official primary ticket market. An accessible and compelling read. The Rise and Rise of Illegal Ticket Touting will appeal to students and scholars of criminology sociology social policy policing and all those with an interest in live music and sport and the hidden practices that lurk beneath the surface.

Public Law Mark Elliott, Robert Thomas, 2024. The market leading public law text uses three key themes to tie the subject together with style and flair. The authors capture the dynamic nature of public law covering essential topics and key contemporary debates as well as offering fascinating insights. Fresh direct and clear writing style enables thorough understanding of the fundamentals while engaging readers with difficult issues and debates. Three key themes guide students through the book: the importance of executive accountability the shift from political to legal constitutionalism and multilayered governance demonstrating the interlinking strands of public law. Practical examples illustrate the importance of public law to everyday life in the UK and discussion questions encourage students to consider contentious issues. Expert commentaries at the end of every chapter allow students to see the debates within each topic first hand. Also available as an e-book and on Law Trove enhanced with self-test questions and author videos to offer a fully immersive experience and extra learning support.

Annual Report of the Board of Metropolitan Police of the Metropolitan Police District New York (N.Y.). Police Department, 1906. Spycops Raphael Schlembach, 2024-04-23. The spycops scandal has laid bare the existence of secretive police units that sent undercover police officers to infiltrate and undermine hundreds of political campaigns and activist groups. This is the first academic analysis of the activists experiences and their attempts to find answers and accountability in the Undercover Policing Inquiry. Written from the perspective of the policed the author draws on extensive fieldwork and his first hand experience of police infiltration through his participation in climate campaigns.

House of Commons - Committee of Public Accounts: Police Procurement - HC 115 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts, 2013-09-17 Police forces pay widely varying prices for very similar items which means money is being wasted The price paid for such basic items as standard issue boots can vary from 25 to 114 or 14 to 43 for handcuffs This is even the case where items are identical It cannot be right that prices paid for the same type of high visibility jacket varied by as much as 33% With central funding being cut police forces must ensure they get best value for money from procurement so that they can focus resources on fighting crime Forces can make big savings through bulk buying of items but have been unable to agree on the most simple things like how many pockets they should have on their uniforms The Department cannot persuade enough individual forces to cooperate with its attempts to introduce more centralised procurement in part because forces are sceptical about the commercial competence of procurement officers working at the centre National contracts with suppliers are not used by enough forces and do not cover many basic goods and services Forces use of the new online police procurement hub is also woefully below the Home Office s expectations By 2013 a miniscule 2% of items were being bought through this central hub against a target of 80% by the end of this Parliament Police and Crime Commissioners have authority over local spending but as the Department remains accountable for public money voted by Parliament it cannot step back from value for money issues
