Next Generation Genres Jessica Singer Early, 2022-11-29 Students need updated writing genres and a real reason to write. Evolutions in technology and connectivity have brought about significant changes in the ways writing is produced and shared. Yet despite monumental shifts in the practice of writing, how we teach writing has remained largely static. What we need is a new set of genres for writing instruction—genres that will speak to students who are already immersed in rich and multifaceted literacy practices through social media, gaming, and new technologies. Jessica S. Early's Next Generation Genres provides an alternative framework for a secondary writing curriculum that places a central emphasis on helping students gain the experience they need to write with confidence in academic and civic life. If your students glaze over when they face a standard essay assignment, perhaps it's time to let them try writing an infographic or a podcast.

Common Core Standards in Diverse Classrooms Jeff Zwiers, Susan O'Hara, Robert Pritchard, 2023-10-10 The Common Core State Standards require students to do more with knowledge and language than ever before. Rather than be mere consumers of knowledge, students must now become creators, critics, and communicators of ideas across disciplines. Yet in order to take on these new and exciting roles, many students need daily teaching with an extra emphasis on accelerating their academic communication skills. Common Core Standards in Diverse Classrooms: Essential Practices for Developing Academic Language and Disciplinary Literacy describes seven research-based teaching practices for developing complex language and literacy skills across grade levels and disciplines, using complex texts, fortifying complex output, fostering academic interaction, clarifying complex language, modeling guiding and designing instruction. Most important, you will find clear descriptions and examples of how these essential practices can and should be woven together in real lessons. The book clarifies how to support the learning of complex language that students need for reaching Common Core and other standards. Provides practical ways to realize the instructional shifts needed with the implementation of new standards in diverse classrooms. Includes frameworks and descriptions on how to develop students' complex language speaking and writing. Helps maximize strategies and tools for building system-wide capacity for sustained growth in the practices. Common Core Standards in Diverse Classrooms is a concise guide for helping us improve our practices to strengthen two vital pillars that support student learning: academic language and disciplinary literacy.

School Library Infographics Peggy Milam Creighton Ph.D., 2015-05-18 Find out how you can increase the impact of your school library instruction, promotion, and organization with the utilization of infographics created with do-it-yourself tips found within this guidebook. Infographics have become increasingly popular educational tools for visually conveying ideas and information in class projects, in daily lessons, and for promoting school and library programs. This book, the only one of its kind, helps you create your own computer-generated visuals for your class and library using common software platforms and free web-based applications. A perfect primer for educators with little or no technological savvy, this resource features charts, tables, screenshots, bars, and graphs for making infographics easy to reproduce and create.

Author Peggy Milam Creighton discusses the benefits of utilizing visuals with students and provides tips and strategies for creating your own graphics for various educational settings The reference is organized into three topics how to create infographics with Microsoft software such as Word Excel and PowerPoint how to use graphics to support school library programs and why using these visual based learning tools is important The work features easy to use tutorials lesson plans and project ideas for students Amazing Social Studies Activities Mercedes M.
