| 1. List several of the rumors told about Gatsby.          | Gatsby is a bootlegger, and he killed a man.                                                                 | "He's a bootlegger," said the young ladies, moving somewhere between his cocktails and his flowers. "One time he killed a man who had found out that he was nephew to Von Hindenburg and second cousin to the devil. Reach me a rose, honey, and pour me a last drop into that there crystal glass." |
| 2. Why does Fitzgerald list all of Gatsby's party guests? | To show how big the parties were, and imply that people who attended his parties knew very little about him. | "But I can still read the grey names, and they will give you a better impression than my generalities of those who accepted Gatsby's hospitality and paid him the subtle tribute of knowing nothing whatever about him."                                                                             |
| 3. Why does Gatsby tell Nick about his life?              | Gatsby didn't want Nick to believe all the rumors about him.                                                 | "Well, I'm going to tell you something about my life," he interrupted. "I don't want you to get a wrong idea of me from all these stories you hear."                                                                                                                                                 |
