Information Obligations and Disinformation of Consumers Gert Straetmans,2019-09-05 This book focuses on recent developments in consumer law specifically addressing mandatory disclosures and the topical problem of information overload It provides a comparative analysis based on national reports from countries with common law and civil law traditions in Asia America and Europe and presents the reports in the form of chapters that have been drafted on the basis of a questionnaire and which use the same structure as the questionnaire to allow them to be easily compared The book starts with an analysis of the basic assumptions underlying the current consumer protection models and examines whether and how consumer models adapt to the new market conditions The second part addresses the information obligations themselves first highlighting the differences in the reported countries before narrowing the analysis down to countries with a general pre contractual information duty particularly the transparency requirements that often come with such a duty The next part examines recent developments in the law on food labelling commercial practices and unfair contract terms in order to identify whether similar traits can be found in European and non European jurisdictions The fourth part of the book focuses on specific information obligations in the financial services and e commerce sectors discussing the fact that legislators are experimenting with different forms of summary disclosures in these sectors The final part provides a critical appraisal of the recent developments in consumer information obligations addressing the question of whether the multiple criticisms from behavioural sciences necessitate abandonment or refinement of current consumer information models in favour of new more adequate forms of consumer protection and providing suggestions

Third Parties in Criminal Proceedings Stefano Ruggeri,Antonella Falcone,Viviana Di Nuzzo,2025-01-01 This book deals with the role and the protection of third parties in criminal proceedings Starting from a comparative law definition of formal parties in criminal proceedings based on seven domestic jurisdictions this research focuses on the increasing impact of criminal investigations and criminal trials on different categories of third parties i e those individuals who without being suspected or accused of a criminal offence are involved in criminal investigations and trials The complex features of this topic require a further analysis from another comparative perspective that looks at the protection of victims and third parties at the levels of international and supranational law Particular attention is firstly be devoted to the acknowledgment of a set of procedural safeguards to victims and individuals other than formal participants in criminal proceedings by means of the enormous contribution made by international human rights courts with a specific focus on the European Court of Human Rights and the Inter American Court of Human Rights Regarding victims in particular their multifaceted status are also examined from the viewpoint of international criminal justice as well The European scenario moreover allows for further deepening of the role and the procedural guarantees granted to third parties and victims from the viewpoint of EU law in relation to the area of freedom security and justice in which additional human rights challenges emerge in the field of transnational criminal justice Comparison shall at all levels be carried out in the light of the enormous transformations due to the digital transition which has brought about unbelievable changes in every area of mankind s life including criminal justice Ever newer tools indeed govern procedural activities and although unprecedented investigative measures allow for increasingly accurate fact finding new risks also arise including those vis vis third parties whose procedural rights risk to be inevitably infringed
