

VULKANO FLOW LC Windows 7 and Vista

Important note

Changes in specifications are normally approved by the joint manufacturers to complete each one of the user's software or control the equipment.

The equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, according to part 15 of the FCC rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. The equipment generates, uses, and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If the equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one of the following measures:

- Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
 - Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver.
 - Connect the equipment into a different electrical outlet that is on a different circuit.
 - Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help.
- The Federal Communications Commission must be notified to provide a cancellation statement if at least three days advance notice is given to the manufacturer or distributor with any other conditions if necessary.
- Responsible is subject to the following two conditions: 1) The device may not cause interference, and 2) the device must accept any interference, including interference that may cause operation of the device.
