More Than Rivals... & Seven Years of Secrets Susannah Erwin, 2023-06-27 One shocking discovery will give them wealth power and delicious passion in award winning author Susannah Erwin's decadent 2 in 1 volume More Than Rivals She's sleeping with the enemy and doesn't know it Anna Stratford's just discovered she's the heiress to the Lochlainn empire Now she's been thrown into a world of wealth decadence and corporate espionage not to mention fireworks with too tempting theme park mogul Ian Blackburn Their searing night together is almost perfect except that Anna's sleeping with her newfound family's enemy But is Ian falling for her or manipulating her Seven Years of Secrets He's offering her everything she could ever want including himself Seven years after a sizzling fling that ended in crushing betrayal Declan Treharne offers journalist Mara Schuyler the opportunity of a lifetime if she can trust him But Mara doesn't know that Declan is one of the Lochlainn heirs And now their rekindled passion is about to face the ultimate test of ambition and greed Two sizzling romances one great value Dublin University Magazine, 1836 Principles of Political Economy with Some of Their Applications to Social Philosophy John Stuart Mill, 1865 The American Monthly Review of Reviews, 1906

The Freewill Baptist Quarterly, 1857 Eclectic Magazine, 1900 Innovation Matters Richard J. Gilbert, 2022-06-07 A proposal for moving from price centric to innovation centric competition policy reviewing theory and evidence on economic incentives for innovation Competition policy and antitrust enforcement have traditionally focused on prices rather than innovation Economic theory shows the ways that price competition benefits consumers and courts antitrust agencies and economists have developed tools for the quantitative evaluation of price impacts Antitrust law does not preclude interventions to encourage innovation but over time the interpretation of the laws has raised obstacles to enforcement policies for innovation In this book economist Richard Gilbert proposes a shift from price centric to innovation centric competition policy Antitrust enforcement should be concerned with protecting incentives for innovation and preserving opportunities for dynamic rather than static competition In a high technology economy Gilbert argues innovation matters Gilbert considers both theory and available empirical evidence on the relationships among market structure firm behavior and the production of new products and services He reviews the distinctive features of the high tech economy and why current analytical tools used by antitrust enforcers aren't up to the task of assessing innovation concerns He considers from the perspective of innovation competition Kenneth Arrow's replacement effect and the Schumpeterian theory of market power and appropriation discusses the effect of mergers on innovation and future price competition and reviews the empirical literature on competition mergers and innovation He describes examples of merger enforcement by US and European antitrust agencies examines cases brought against Microsoft and Google and discusses the risks and benefits of interoperability standards Finally he offers recommendations for competition policy The open access edition of this book was made possible by generous funding from Arcadia a charitable fund of Lisbet Rausing and Peter Baldwin
