The Best Service is No Service Bill Price, David Jaffé, 2011-09-14 In this groundbreaking book Bill Price and David Jaffe offer a new game changing approach showing how managers are taking the wrong path and are using the wrong metrics to measure customer service Customer service they assert is only needed when a company does something wrong eliminating the need for service is the best way to satisfy customers To be successful companies need to treat service as a data point of dysfunction and figure what they need to do to eliminate the demand The Best Service Is No Service outlines these seven principles to deliver the best service that ultimately leads to no service Eliminate dumb contacts Create engaging self service Be proactive Make it easy to contact your company Own the actions across the company Listen and act Deliver great service experiences

X-Teams Deborah Ancona, Henrik Bresman, 2007-05-17 Why do good teams fail Very often argue Deborah Ancona and Henrik Bresman it is because they are looking inward instead of outward Based on years of research examining teams across many industries Ancona and Bresman show that traditional team models are falling short and that what is needed and what works is a new brand of team that emphasizes external outreach to stakeholders extensive ties expandable tiers and flexible membership The authors highlight that X teams not only are able to adapt in ways that traditional teams aren't but that they actually improve an organization's ability to produce creative ideas and execute them increasing the entrepreneurial and innovative capacity within the firm What's more the new environment demands what the authors call distributed leadership and the book highlights how X teams powerfully embody this idea
