Humanitarian Reason A Moral History Of The Present:

Humanitarian Reason Didier Fassin, 2012 Studies primarily France with shorter sections on South Africa Venezuela and Palestine Human Flourishing in an Age of Gene Editing Erik Parens, Josephine Johnston, 2019-07-29 International uproar followed the recent announcement of the birth of twin girls whose genomes had been edited with a breakthrough DNA editing technology This technology called clustered regularly interspaced short palindrome repeats or CRISPR Cas9 can alter any DNA including DNA in embryos meaning that changes can be passed to the offspring of the person that embryo becomes Should we use gene editing technologies to change ourselves our children and future generations to come The potential uses of CRISPR Cas9 and other gene editing technologies are unprecedented in human history By using these technologies we eradicate certain dreadful diseases Altering human DNA however raises enormously difficult questions Some of these questions are about safety Can these technologies be deployed without posing an unreasonable risk of physical harm to current and future generations Can all physical risks be adequately assessed and responsibly managed But gene editing technologies also raise other moral questions which touch on deeply held personal cultural and societal values Might such technologies redefine what it means to be healthy or normal or cherished Might they undermine relationships between parents and children or exacerbate the gap between the haves and have nots The broadest form of this second kind of question is the focus of this book What might gene editing and related technologies mean for human flourishing In the new essays collected here an interdisciplinary group of scholars asks age old questions about the nature and well being of humans in the context of a revolutionary new biotechnology one that has the potential to change the genetic make up of both existing people and future generations Welcoming readers who study related issues and those not yet familiar with the formal study of bioethics the authors of these essays open up a conversation about the ethics of gene editing It is through this conversation that citizens can influence laws and the distribution of funding for science and medicine that professional leaders can shape understanding and use of gene editing and related technologies by scientists patients and practitioners and that individuals can make decisions about their own lives and the lives of their families Ordering the Human Eram Alam, Dorothy Roberts, Natalie Shibley, 2024-04-09 Modern science and ideas of race have long been entangled sharing notions of order classification and hierarchy Ordering the Human presents cutting edge interdisciplinary scholarship that examines the racialization of science in various global contexts illuminating how racial logics have been deployed to classify marginalize and oppress These wide ranging essays written by experts in genetics forensics public health history sociology and anthropology investigate the influence of racial concepts in scientific knowledge production across regions and eras Chapters excavate the mechanisms by which racialized science serves projects of power and domination and they explore different forms of resistance Topics range from skull collecting by eighteenth century German and Dutch scientists to the use of biology to reinforce notions of purity in present day South Korea and Brazil The authors investigate the colonial legacies of the pathologization of weight for the Maori people the scientific presumption of coronary artery disease risk among South Asians and the role of racial categories in COVID 19 statistics and responses among many other cases Tracing the pernicious consequences of the racialization of science Ordering the Human shines a light on how the naturalization of racial categories continues to shape health and inequality today The Biafran War and Postcolonial Humanitarianism Lasse

Heerten, 2017-09-28 In the summer of 1968 audiences around the globe were shocked when newspapers and television stations confronted them with photographs of starving children in the secessionist Republic of Biafra This global concern fundamentally changed how the Nigerian Civil War was perceived an African civil war that had been fought for one year without fostering any substantial interest from international publics became Biafra the epitome of humanitarian crisis Based on archival research from North America Western Europe and Sub Saharan Africa this book is the first comprehensive study of the global history of the conflict A major addition to the flourishing history of human rights and humanitarianism it argues that the global moment Biafra is closely linked to the ascendance of human rights humanitarianism and Holocaust memory in a postcolonial world The conflict was a key episode for the re structuring of the relations between the West and the Third World The World Reimagined Mark Bradley, 2016-09-12 This book uncovers how human rights gained meaning and power for Americans in the 1940s the 1970s and today Preparing for War Boyd van Dijk, 2022 This engrossing documentary gives us an in depth look at the culture and values of America in the years immediately preceding our entry into World War II Life, Emergent Yasmeen Arif, 2016-11-01 How does an inquiry into life as it lives or dies amid mass violence look like from the perspective of the social Taking us from Sierra Leone to India to Lebanon Life Emergent challenges conventional understandings of biopolitics weaving a politics of life through the lens of life not death Arguing that the letting die element of biopolitics has been overemphasized Yasmeen Arif zeros in on biopolitics other pole making live She does so by highlighting the various means and the forms of life configured in the aftermath or afterlives of violent events in contexts of law justice community and identity Her analysis of the social repercussions is both global and local in scope Arif examines the convictions made in the Special Court of Sierra Leone the first hybrid court of its nature under international criminal law Next she explores the making of a justice movement in the context of Hindu Muslim violence in 2002 in the state of Gujarat India From there she revisits the Sikh carnage in Delhi of 1984 Finally she explores a span of civil violence in Lebanon and particularly its effects on the city of Beirut This rigorously argued book brings together the various strands of life and the social that each chapter has disentangled and in doing so it begins to frame a politics of and in life Athens and the War on Public Space Klara Jaya Brekke, Christos Filippidis, Antonis Vradis, 2018 Sometimes the maelstrom of a crisis can be captured in a single image The image of the mundane barely noticeable movement of an urban dweller as they go about their everyday life Athens and the War on Public Space commences from images just like this one collected over a two year period of research 2012 2014 in Athens during a time of severe financial and political crisis For the author curators of this volume public space became a light sensitive surface upon which they could begin to map the material imprints of the most structural and violent characteristics of the crisis and their research spread in different directions tracking the role of infrastructure and the shifts the financial crisis brought about upon built environments the violent manifestations of the official anti migrant policy the rise of racism the imposition of the emergency upon public space and the phenomenology of mass transit

Helping Familiar Strangers Louise Olliff, 2022-12-06 Who helps in situations of forced displacement How and why do they get involved In Helping Familiar Strangers Louise Olliff focuses on one type of humanitarian group refugee diaspora organizations RDOs to explore the complicated impulses practices and relationships between these activists and the familiar strangers they try to help By documenting findings from ethnographic research and interviews with resettled and displaced persons RDO representatives and humanitarian professionals in Australia Switzerland Thailand and Indonesia Olliff reveals that former refugees are actively involved in helping people in situations of forced displacement and that individuals with lived experience of forced displacement have valuable knowledge skills and networks that can be drawn on in times of humanitarian crisis We live in a world where humanitarians have varying motivations capacities and ways of helping those in need and Helping Familiar Strangers confirms that RDOs and similar groups are an important part of the tapestry of care that people turn to when seeking protection far from home

New Philanthropy and Social Justice Behrooz Morvaridi, 2016-07-20 Over the past twenty years wealthy individuals and private corporations have become increasingly involved in philanthropy often by establishing foundations targeted at helping to reduce poverty disease and other social problems But as the essays in this interdisciplinary volume show this new philanthropy does not provide a long term solution because it fails to tackle social injustice or the structural reasons for inequality Placing this discussion in a global context this far reaching book questions the political and ideological reasons why rich individuals and companies engage in poverty reduction through philanthropy and suggests that the new philanthropy and social justice debate extends far beyond national boundaries
