2. Introduce the quotation with a complete sentence that states its significance to the essay's thesis.

  - Begin the quote with a capital letter.

Although the United Nations is firmly committed to creating a world society built on peace and harmony, it has never been naive about how peace might have to be achieved. The very first lines of Chapter 1 in The Charter of the United Nations clearly state that violence may sometimes be necessary to achieve a higher ideal: "To maintain international peace and security, and to that end: to take effective collective measures for the prevention and removal of threats to the peace, and for the suppression of acts of aggression or other breaches of the peace" (United Nations, 1945, p. 3). These principles of removing threats and stopping aggressive acts leave open the option of military force to maintain a peaceful and secure world.
