scope has been intensive and narrow focusing on a few specific areas in the spectrum of possibilities This conference was the first in many years to offer such a broad exploration of alternative fuels Presenters included influential executives and administrators from the Department of Energy and the motor vehicle and energy industries federal state and local governments environmental groups as well as leading researchers in the fields of air quality analysis motor vehicle technology and energy policy In addition to an introduction and conclusion by Daniel Sperling a total of 17 papers are presented in this volume What is most exceptional and exciting about this collection is the presentation of contrasting views and the sharing of this wealth of information with a broader audience Examined here are global fuel strategy ethanol fuels in Brazil alternative fuels as a solution to the air quality problem Chevron s view of the future of oil and the role of government in promoting alternative transportation fuels Methanol compressed natural gas and hydrogen powered and electric vehicles are also discussed In addition to the analytical papers the volume also includes a short article representing the viewpoint of an environmentally minded citizen This book should appeal to any individual involved or interested in this important area Researchers will appreciate the opportunity to consider so many well researched but varying perspectives It will be essential and perhaps should be required reading for policy makers providing them with an overview of the issues and helping them make more intelligent effective and strategic choices For the general public those who are affected by energy and transportation policies it is a unique opportunity to gain a broad understanding of our transportation fuel options and their environmental and economic consequences
