Fort Hare Undergraduate Application Forms 2015:

Lives of the Artists, Lives of the Architects Hans Ulrich Obrist, 2015-05-07 A unique opportunity to learn about the lives and creativity of the world's leading artists Hans Ulrich Obrist has been conducting ongoing conversations with the world's greatest living artists since he began in Switzerland aged 19 with Fischli and Weiss Here he chooses nineteen of the greatest figures and presents their conversations offering the reader intimacy with the artists and insight into their creative processes Inspired by the great Vasari Lives of the Artists explores the meaning of art and artists today their varying approaches to creating and a sense of how their thinking evolves over time Including David Hockney Gilbert and George Gerhard Richter Michelangelo Pistoletto Marina Abramovic Louise Bourgeois Rem Koolhaas Jeff Koons and Oscar Niemayer this is a wonderful and unique book for those interested in modern art Hans Ulrich Obrist is a curator and writer Since 2006 he has been co director of the Serpentine Gallery London He is the author with Ai Wei Wei of Ai Wei Wei Speaks A Social History of the University Presses in Apartheid South Africa Elizabeth Le Roux, 2015-10-14 In A History of the University Presses in Apartheid South Africa Elizabeth le Roux examines scholarly publishing history academic freedom and knowledge production during the apartheid era Using archival materials comprehensive bibliographies and political sociology theory this work analyses the origins publishing lists and philosophies of the university presses The university presses are often associated with anti apartheid publishing and the promotion of academic freedom but this work reveals both greater complicity and complexity Elizabeth le Roux demonstrates that the university presses cannot be considered oppositional because they did not resist censorship and because they operated within the constraints of the higher education system but their publishing strategies became more liberal over time

Higher Education in the BRICS Countries Simon Schwartzman, Rómulo Pinheiro, Pundya Pillay, 2015-03-24 In spite of the increasing attention attributed to the rise in prominence of the BRICS Brazil Russia India China and South Africa countries few studies have looked at the ways in which broader social expectations with respect to the role of higher education across the BRICS have changed or not in recent years Our point of departure is that contrary to the conventional wisdom focusing on functionalistic perspectives higher education systems are not just designed by governments to fulfill certain functions but have a tendency for evolving in a rather unpredictable fashion as a result of the complex interplay between a number of internal and external factors In reality national higher education systems develop and change according to a complex process that encompasses the expectations of governmental agencies markets the aspirations of the population for the benefits of education the specific institutional traditions and cultures of higher education institutions and increasingly so the interests and strategies of the private firms entering and offering services in the higher education market This basically means that it is of outmost importance to move away from conceiving of universities or higher education as single monolithic actors or sector One way of doing this is by investigating a selected number of distinct but nonetheless interrelated factors or drivers which taken together help determine the nature and scope of the social compact between higher education its core actors and institutions and society at large government industry local communities professional associations

Livelihood and Landscape Change in Africa: Future Trajectories for Improved Well-Being under a Changing Climate Sheona Shackleton, Paul Hebinck, Chinwe Ifejika Speranza, Vanessa Masterson, Dian Spear, Maria Tengö, 2019-10-08 This book is based on a Special Issue of the journal LAND that draws together a collection of 11 diverse articles at the nexus of climate change landscapes and livelihoods in rural Africa all explore the links between livelihood and landscape change including shifts in farming practices and natural resource use and management The articles which are all place based case studies across nine African countries cover three not necessarily mutually exclusive thematic areas namely smallholder farming livelihoods under new climate risk five articles long term dynamics of livelihoods and landscape change and future trajectories two articles and natural resource management and governance under a changing climate spanning forests woodlands and rangelands four articles The commonalities key messages and research gaps across the 11 articles are presented in a synthesis article All the case studies pointed to the need for an integrated and in depth understanding of the multiple drivers of landscape and livelihood change and how these interact with local histories knowledge systems cultures complexities and lived realities Moreover where there are interventions such as new governance systems REDD or climate smart agriculture it is critical to interrogate what is required to ensure a fair and equitable distribution of emerging benefits

Higher Education and Capacity Building in Africa Hanne Kirstine Adriansen, Lene Møller Madsen, Stig Jensen, 2015-11-06 Higher education has recently been recognized as a key driver for societal growth in the Global South and capacity building of African universities is now widely included in donor policies The question is how do capacity building projects affect African universities researchers and students Universities and their scientific knowledges are often seen to have universal qualities therefore capacity building may appear straight forward Higher Education and Capacity Building in Africa contests such universalistic notions Inspired by ideas about the geography of scientific knowledge it explores what role specific places and relationships have in knowledge production and analyses how cultural experiences are included and excluded in teaching and research Thus the different chapters show how what constitutes legitimate scientific knowledge is negotiated and contested In doing so the chapters draw on discussions about the hegemony of Western thought in education and knowledge production The authors own experiences with higher education capacity building and knowledge production are discussed and used to contribute to the reflexive turn and rise of auto ethnography This book is a valuable resource for researchers and postgraduate students in education development studies African studies and human geography as well as anthropology and history

The Palgrave Handbook of Ethics in Critical Research Catriona Ida Macleod, Jacqueline Marx, Phindezwa Mnyaka, Gareth J. Treharne, 2018-05-22 This handbook highlights the growing tensions surrounding the current dominant ethical clearance model which is increasingly being questioned particularly in critical research It draws on stories from the field in critical research conducted in a range of contexts and countries and on an array of topics The authors involved in this collection encountered dilemmas contradictions and surprises that brought about a change in their understanding of ethics Throughout the book they discuss how ethics is an ongoing and situated struggle that requires researchers at times to traverse traditional ethical imperatives Four sections lead readers through the complexities of grounded ethical practice encountering systems including Ethics Committees and institutions blurring boundaries within research the politics of voice anonymity and confidentiality and power relations in researching down up and alongside This handbook is a resource for social science researchers using critical methodologies across a range of disciplines as well as for students and teachers of ethics in navigating the quandaries of doing good while doing good research The PhD Experience in African Higher Education John Mashayamombe,Ruth Murambadoro,uMbuso weNkosi,2022-11-08 The PhD Experience in African Higher Education edited by Ruth Murambadoro John Mashayamombe and uMbuso weNkosi addresses the growing call to invest in the humanities and social sciences by exploring the nature of doctoral training in select institutions of higher learning in South Africa In the past two decades South Africa has become a key player in the global higher education landscape and dubbed the hub for doctoral training in Africa because of its developed educational infrastructure and highly ranked universities Given South Africa s positioning the contributors in this volume argue that the government donors universities and faculty have a socio legal duty to ensure that doctoral programs in the humanities and social sciences are not offered to amass numbers of African graduates but are grounded on equipping students with both hard and soft skills necessary to succeed This is achieved by offering skills training and research apprenticeships fostered in communities of practice because as the contributors show the humanities and social sciences are the backbone of society Furthermore they argue that treating doctoral candidates as equal partners is emancipatory because intellectual projects are best nurtured through collaborative learning Global Development of the Community College Model Carmen L. McCrink,Heidi Whitford,Natasha C. Stubbs,2017-03-13 While the community college is a longstanding institutional type within the U S the success of this model has recently garnered international attention As countries outside the U S grapple with issues regarding access and affordability of higher education opportunity the concept of the community college has gained traction This issue explores The global expansion and development of the community college model in various countries and regions around the world Insights into the establishment and sustainability of these institutions in other countries through research and analysis and Case studies that focus on the development and implementation process of community colleges amid various social political and economic contexts This is the 177th volume of this Jossey Bass quarterly report series Essential to the professional libraries of presidents vice presidents deans and other leaders in today s open door institutions New Directions for Community Colleges provides expert guidance in meeting the challenges of their distinctive and expanding educational mission Ghosts of Archive Verne Harris,2020-12-21 Ghosts of Archive draws on the discourses of deconstruction

intersectionality and archetypal psychology to mount an argument that archive is fundamentally and structurally spectral and that the work of archive is justice Drawing on more than 20 years of the author s research on deconstruction and archive the book posits archive as an essential resource for social justice activism and as a source or location of soul for individuals and communities Through explorations of what Jacques Derrida termed hauntology Harris invites a listening to the call for justice in conceptual spaces that are non disciplinary He argues that archive is both constructed in relation to and beset by ghosts ghosts of the living of the dead and of those not yet born and that attention should be paid to them Establishing a unique nexus between a deconstructive intersectionality and traditions of memory for justice in struggles against oppression from South Africa and elsewhere the book makes a case for a deconstructive praxis in today s archive Offering new ideas about spectrality banditry and archival activism Ghosts of Archive should appeal to those working in the disciplines of archival science information studies and psychology It should also be essential reading for those with an interest in social justice issues transitional justice history philosophy memory studies and postcolonial studies Driving Change Trish

Gibbon,2014-06-14 Driving Change tells a story that exemplifies a basic law of physics known to all the application of a relatively small lever can shift weight create movement and initiate change far in excess of its own size It tells a story about a particular instance of development cooperation relatively modest in scope and aim that has nonetheless achieved remarkable things and has been held up as an exemplar of its kind It does not tell a story of flawless execution and perfectly achieved outcomes it is instead a narrative that gives some insight into the structural and organisational arrangements the institutional and individual commitments and above all the work intelligence and passion of its participants which made the SANTED Programme a noteworthy success
