Music of Ennio Morricone Franco Sciannameo, 2020-01-23 Reflections on the Music of Ennio Morricone Fame and Legacy provides new contextualized perspectives on Ennio Morricone's position as a radical composer working at the cutting edge of music within the framework of his cinematic compositions. The Italian composer has reached world fame as the creator of some 500 film scores and hundreds more arrangements for commercial recordings; however, Sciannameo argues that Morricone's legacy must include his concert works: a catalogued list of more than 100 titles. By analyzing the composer's formative years as a music practitioner and his transition into the world of composing for the screen, Franco Sciannameo reconsiders the best of Morricone's popular compositions and reveals the challenging concert works which have been an intimate expression of Morricone's lifelong creative season. Reflections on the Music of Ennio Morricone explores Morricone's legacy, its nature, and its eventual impact on posterity.

The Impact of the British Oboist Léon Goossens Jonathan Tobutt, 2023-06-28 In this study of Léon Goossens' musical life, the author reassesses the current limited and fragmented perspectives of Léon's contribution to British oboe playing through his interpretative and performance strategies, his orchestral and solo careers, the people who influenced and were influenced by him, his character as reported by those who studied and worked with him, and significantly his pivotal role as a catalyst for new compositions that created a considerable library of British oboe music, addressing a paucity in the repertoire. To place Léon's impact in the context of the oboe's history in Britain, factors concerning the influence of the French School on the British style of oboe playing are explored, as well as the entrenched polarised attitudes towards the instrument and a solo compositional vacuum prevalent in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries that ultimately provided a platform for a restoration of the instrument's status. Opus, 1992

Ludwig van Beethoven, Living Well Alan Hargrave, 2011-09-22 What does it mean to live well when you're exhausted from juggling the demands of work and a young family? When you've been around long enough to be scarred by loss, disappointment, or frustration? When your memory is beginning to fade and you feel a burden to others? Whatever the situation, we find ourselves in this down-to-earth book will help restore a sense of purpose. Alan Hargrave draws upon rules of life from Benedict to Iona to enable us to think seriously about the pattern of our living. Through absorbing stories, honest and often very funny accounts of his own personal struggles, and the provision of many useful exercises, he aims to help us find our own rule of life, one that will not only sustain us but allow the light that may have gone out of our eyes to shine once more. And as the energy we need to look beyond ourselves returns, so we will discover new and creative ways to express the love of God to our wonderful needy world.

The Double Reed, 2008 Gabriel Faure Edward R. Phillips, 2011-04-14 First published in 2011, this research study includes a biography section as well as the works of Gabriel Urbain Fauré, born on 12 May 1845. Much of Fauré's music, especially the late pieces, remain little played and little known, as a result of his reputation as a salon composer of pleasant music continues even among educated musicians. The author suggests that it is more likely that the difficulty of much of Fauré's music for the listener and the demands it places upon him or her are the principal reasons for its omission from concert programs and for a misunderstanding of Fauré's place in the history of French music
