Encyclopedia of Literary Translation Into English: A-L O. Classe, 2000 The Post-traumatic Theatre of Grotowski and Kantor Magda Romanska, 2014-10-01 Despite its international influence Polish theatre remains a mystery to many Westerners This volume attempts to fill in current gaps in English language scholarship by offering a historical and critical analysis of two of the most influential works of Polish theatre Jerzy Grotowski's Akropolis and Tadeusz Kantor's Dead Class By examining each director's representation of Auschwitz this study provides a new understanding of how translating national trauma through the prism of performance can alter and deflect the meaning and reception of theatrical works both inside and outside of their cultural and historical contexts

Collective Memory of Political Events James W. Pennebaker,Dario Paez,Bernard Rim,,Dario Paez,2013-06-17 Research in collective memory is a relatively new area capturing the interest of scholars in social psychology memory sociology and anthropology The core idea is that collective attitudes and behaviors are created and shared through common experiences and communication among a cohort of people For example people born between 1940 and 1960 are often defined via the JFK assassination and the Vietnam War Their parents typically experienced lesser impact from these events Papers about collective memory have appeared in the literature under different guises for the last hundred years Freud s Civilization and Its Discontents Jung s ideas on the collective unconscious and McDougall s speculation on the group mind posited that identity and action could be viewed as resulting from the shared development of a culture Halbwachs a French social psychologist 1877 1945 who was the first to write in detail about the nature of collective memory argued that basic memory processes were all social That is people remember only those events that they have repeated and elaborated in their discussions with others In the last several years there has been a resurgence of interest in this general topic because it addresses some fundamental questions about memory and social processes Work closely related to these questions deals with the nature of autobiographical memory traumatic experience and reconstructive memory and social sharing of memories This book brings together an international group of researchers who have been empirically studying some basic tenets of collective memory Azaadi, Freedom and Change in Kashmir Laura Schuurmans,2023-04-24 Kashmir has been in geopolitical limbo since the partition of the British Raj in 1947 A region of stunning natural beauty and diverse ethnicities and cultures its people have experienced military tension violence state oppression and terrorism for decades This book provides an introduction to Kashmir and explores the reasons for the tensions within the region itself as well as the wider reaching implications of those tensions The international relations between India Pakistan and China are crucial to understanding this conflict as are the relationships between those nations and the wider world The changing nature of global politics continues to affect Kashmir and this book highlights the many reasons that peace in the region needs to be seen as a priority by global leaders In exploring the practice of transitional justice in Timor Leste formerly East Timor and in South Africa Schuurmans presents potential routes to peace in Kashmir and azaadi for its people

Traumatic Realism Michael Rothberg, 2000 Drawing on a wide range of texts Michael Rothberg puts forth an overarching framework for understanding representations of the Holocaust Through close readings of such writers and thinkers as Theodor Adorno Maurice Blanchot Ruth Kluger Charlotte Delbo Art Spiegelman and Philip Roth and an examination of films by Steven Spielberg and Claude Lanzmann Rothberg demonstrates how the Holocaust as a traumatic event makes three fundamental demands on representation a demand for documentation a demand for reflection on the limits of representation and a demand for engagement with the public

Memory and Amnesia Paloma Aguilar, 2002-08-01 Using a rich variety of sources such as official newsreels school textbooks the work of contemporary historians memoirs official documents legislation and monuments this book explores how the historical memory of the Spanish Civil War 1936-1939 influenced the transition to democracy in Spain after Franco's death in 1975 The author traces the development of official discourse on the War throughout the Franco period and describes the regime's attempts to achieve political legitimacy Although there was no universal consensus regarding the events of the Civil War general agreement did exist concerning the main lesson which should be drawn from it never again should Spaniards become embroiled in a fratricidal conflict

A Theology of Traumatic Affect Alice Kim, 2024-10-21 A Theology of Traumatic Affect offers theological tools language and framework to victims survivors of trauma and their communities Seen through the lens of affect theory the social dimensions of trauma emerge even for individual trauma Using an interdisciplinary approach Alice Kim argues that due to interconnectedness of individuals a communal effort is necessary for trauma work Living in a different world as imagined by public imagination is possible now with collective planetary engagement of all creatures participating in co-creation

Handbook of Political Violence and Children Charles W. Greenbaum, Mohammed Haj Yahia, Carolyn Hamilton, 2021 Political violence has disrupted the lives of millions of children around the world Responding to the gravity and scale of this phenomenon this volume is intended to stimulate discussion and research on children's exposure to political violence and its psycho-social effects It brings together for the first time in a single volume three areas of scientific activity in different disciplines research on effects programs for intervention and laws and policy for prevention of political violence to children Section I presents reviews of research on children exposed to political violence including child soldiers and refugee children as well as an examination of methodology and ethics Section II contains research on interventions with children exposed to political violence including individual therapy and school family and community interventions Section III covers legal and social issues in deterring the recruitment of children to violent causes and protecting children in armed conflict Pulling together the work of leading scholars and practitioners in the social sciences and international law this volume argues that the prevention of political violence to children is possible and it provides a crucial basis for ideas for prevention National Library of

Theory and the Refugee Problem Natasha Saunders,2017-11-22 The refugee problem is a term that it has become almost impossible to escape Although used by a wide range of actors involved in work related to forced migration these actors do not often explain what exactly the problem is that they are working to solve leading to an unfortunate conflation of two quite different problems the problems that refugees face and the problems that refugees pose Beginning from the simple yet too often overlooked observation that how one conceives of solving a problem is inseparable from what one understands that problem to be Saunders study explores the questions raised about how to address the refugee problem if we recognise that there may not be just one problem and that not all actors involved with the refugee regime conceive of their work as addressing the same problem Utilising the work of Michel Foucault the book first charts how different problems lend themselves to particular kinds of solutions arguing that the international refugee regime is best understood as developed to solve the refugee as problem rather than refugees problems Turning to the work of Hannah Arendt the book then reframes the refugee problem from the perspective of the refugee rather than the state and investigates the extent to which doing so can open up creative space for rethinking the more traditional solutions to the refugee as problem Cases of refugee protest in Europe and the burgeoning Sanctuary Movement in the UK are examined as two sub state and popular movements which could constitute such creative solutions to a reframed problem The consequences of the refugee label and of the discourses of humanitarianism and emergency is a topic of critical concern and as such the book will form important reading for a scholars and students of international political theory and forced migration studies
