READERS' ADVISORY:

For the many fans of Doctorow's works like The March, Ragtime and Billy Bathgate.

ABOUT THE BOOK:

A spellbinding novel inspired by the lives of two brothers whose reclusiveness and infamous deaths—buried under decades of accumulated debris in their Fifth Avenue town house—captured the American imagination. Like the house of his two indelible main characters, Doctorow's mesmerizing, elegant, and unforgettable novel contains an entire century, and an entire country, within.

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS:

1. Homer & Langley was inspired by the real-life Collyer brothers—recluses who actually lived in a Fifth Avenue townhouse filled with rubble until their deaths in the late 1940s. Doctorow took some creative liberties in his retelling of their story—namely, extending the brothers' lives by several decades. Why do you think Doctorow made these factual changes, and how would you say this affects the impact of their story as a whole?
2. Why do you think Doctorow chose to write from Homer's point of view? How would the novel have been different if Langley was the narrator?
3. Homer and Langley lose their parents to Spanish influenza while Langley is abroad fighting in World War I. Do you think the brothers' lives would have been different had their parents survived? How? How did the war affect Langley?
4. Describe Homer and Langley as individuals. How do they change over the course of the novel? How do their opinions of the outside world change? How does their relationship as brothers change?
5. Through the eyes of the Collyer brothers, Doctorow shows us a vision of New York City from the 1930s through the 1960's. Discuss the different eras and the historical
