Appellate Court, Stephen Davis Porter, 2002 Reports of Cases Argued and Determined in the Supreme Court of the State of Vermont Vermont. Supreme Court, 1998 European Drug Policies Renaud Colson, Henri Bergeron, 2017-01-27 The drug control regime established by the international community has not succeeded in curbing either the demand for or the offer of narcotics But despite a series of developments in the Americas including the legalisation of cannabis in Uruguay and in several states in the United States of America there is still little support in Europe for repealing drug prohibition laws Nevertheless a gradual policy convergence reveals the emergence of a European model favouring public health strategies over a strictly penal approach to combatting drugs while growing transnational support for legalisation indicates the persistence of an alternative paradigm for drug policy This book examines the various influences on drug policies in Europe as grassroots movements NGO networks private foundations and academic research centres increasingly confront the prevailing discourses of drug prohibition Pursuing an interdisciplinary approach and bringing together legal scholars social scientists and practitioners it provides a comprehensive and critical assessment of drug policy reform in Europe Drug Abuse in the Military United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Armed Services. Subcommittee on Drug Abuse in the Military, 1972 Drug Abuse in the Military, Hearing Before the Subcommittee on Drug Abuse in the Military ..., 92-2, on S. 2139., S. 2999., and S. 1189 ..., 1972 United States. Congress. Senate. Armed Services, 1972 The Routledge Handbook of European Criminology Sophie Body-Gendrot, Mike Hough, Klara Kerecsi, René Lévy, Sonja Snacken, 2013-08-15 This new book brings together some of the leading criminologists across Europe to showcase the best of European criminology This Handbook aims to reflect the range and depth of current work in Europe and to counterbalance the impact of the sometimes insular and ethnocentric Anglo American criminological tradition

The end product is a collection of twenty eight chapters illustrating a truly comparative and interdisciplinary European criminology. The editors have assembled a cast of leading voices to reflect on differences and commonalities, elaborate on theoretically grounded comparisons and reflect on emerging themes in criminology in Europe. After the editors' introduction, the book is organised in three parts: five chapters offering historical, theoretical and policy oriented overviews of European issues in crime and crime control; seven chapters looking at different dimensions of crime in Europe including crime trends, state crime, gender and crime, and urban safety; fifteen chapters examining the variety of institutional responses exploring issues such as policing, juvenile justice, punishment, green crime and the role of the victim. This book gives some indication of the richness and scope of the emerging comparative European criminology and will be required reading for anyone who wants to understand trends in crime and its control across Europe. It will also be a valuable teaching resource especially at postgraduate level as well as an important reference point for researchers and scholars of criminology across Europe.

The Reduction of Drug-Related Harm E. C. Buning, E. Drucker, A. Matthews, R. Newcombe, P. A. O'Hare, 2013-10-08

The War on Drugs has traditionally had total abstinence as its target. The contributors to this book take a new and challenging approach to problem drug use, arguing that abstinence is not the only solution. They believe that existing methods of treatment and control have been inadequate in controlling or improving drug problems and they propose a radical alternative: reducing the harm associated with the use of illicit drugs. International in scope, the book covers a broad range of drugs and of social and individual problems. The spread of HIV infection, which has been described as a greater threat to individual and public health than drug misuse, is also considered. The contributors give an overview of the current theories and practices that have helped to minimise the harmful effects of drugs and describe national and city level strategies towards drug problems. They also cover the drug policies of several agencies and organisations world wide including police, doctors, community groups and local authorities. Concentrating on reducing drug related harm, this is an important contribution to the debate on the future shape of drug control systems. It questions the role and function of existing drug laws and discusses how harm reduction will shape day to day work with drug users. Provocative and persuasive, it should be read by all policy makers and practitioners faced with drugs problems and will do much to help establish new strategies for dealing with drug use strategies that minimise rather than exacerbate drug related harm.
