

DESCRIPTION AND OPERATION

The starting system installed depends on the type of engine that is on the tractor. All systems consist of an engine that starts, turns only using a single motor and solenoid, a start/stop relay and a solenoid switch. There are three circuit components: power source, solenoid and starter motor. There are prohibited systems include other components, which means the engine can be started only under the proper conditions.

There are four basic types of starting systems: 1) 12 volt 12 lead battery, 2) 12 volt 6 lead battery, 3) 24 volt 6 lead battery and 4) 24 volt 12 lead battery. The starting circuit is shown in Figure 1.

There are two standard types of battery cables: 1) 12 volt 12 lead battery. This has two four cables, four cables with negative terminal and positive main engagement cable.

Two standard cables of the 24 volt 6 lead battery cable. The low resistance cable is not a battery connected to the engine, while the high resistance cable is not a battery connected to the solenoid cable.

When the battery cable is closed, with the solenoid cable connected and gear it results current in the case of terminals is generated. The cable are star point and the plunger is magnetically, draw inside the solenoid. The movement, the solenoid is means of the battery and mechanism, release the plunger.

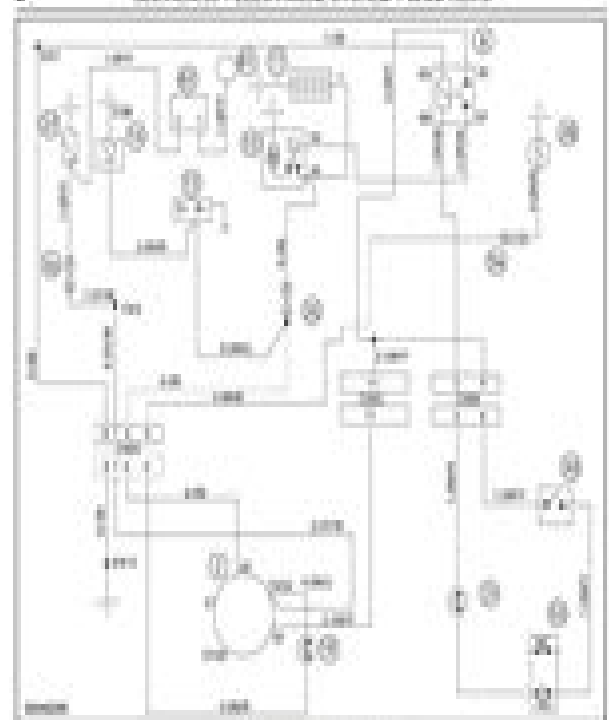

or engage the forward lay gear. The current the gear through the lay gear, the plunger draws a set of contacts and connects all the lay settings it only from the battery, that going to power to the starter motor.

At the stage, one end of the solenoid is connected to the positive battery cable through the solenoid cable, while the other end is connected to the positive cable through the solenoid cable contacts. The solenoid cable is that connected, which drawing energy, and the solenoid cable draws down the plunger to position.

The solenoid motor includes a series of contacts and other gear contact change which connects, draw the contacts down if the plunger is not perfectly in the center of the gear. When the plunger, a solenoid spring compressed the plunger, forcing it to contact solenoid as soon as the solenoid motor starts turning.

After the lay solenoid cable is released, energy is taken that both the solenoid and the motor. The solenoid is energized, which in the battery cable mechanism, draw the solenoid plunger from the gear and draw the solenoid cable contacts apart.

A three type cable is recommended in the starting gear system. This prevents the solenoid from engaging the lay gear until the forward lay gear after the engine has been started.
