Larry Hama Christopher Irving, 2019-05-23 Larry Hama b. 1949 is the writer and cartoonist who helped develop the 1980s G.I. Joe toy line and created a new generation of fans from the tie-in comic book. Through many interviews, this volume reveals that G.I. Joe is far from his greatest feat as an artist. At different points in his life and career, Hama was mentored by comics legends Bernard Krigstein, Wallace Wood, and Neal Adams. Though their impact left an impression on his work, Hama has created a unique brand of storytelling that crosses various media. For example, he devised the character Bucky O'Hare, a green rabbit in outer space, that was made into a comic book, toy line, video game, and television cartoon. With each medium in mind, Hama also discusses his varied career from working at Neal Adams and Dick Giordano's legendary Continuity to editing a humor magazine at Marvel, developing G.I. Joe, and enjoying a long run as writer of Wolverine. This volume also explores Hama's life outside of comics. He is an activist in the Asian American community, a musician, and an actor in film and stage. He has also appeared in minor roles on the television shows M.A.S.H. and Saturday Night Live, and on Broadway. Editor and historian Christopher Irving compiles six of his own interviews with Hama, some of which are unpublished and compiled, others that range through Hama's illustrious career. The first academic volume on the artist, this collection gives a snapshot of Hama's unique character-driven and visual approach to comics storytelling.

Twilight Sparkle and gang are confronted with a perilous new danger in the form of a long-unseen enemy. See how the Magic of Friendship prevails in the start of a brand-new story arc.

Media Franchising Derek Johnson, 2013-03-22 Johnson astutely reveals that franchises are not Borg-like assimilation machines but rather complicated ecosystems within which creative workers strive to create compelling shared worlds. This finely researched breakthrough book is a must-read for anyone seeking a sophisticated understanding of the contemporary media industry. Heather Hendershot, author of What's Fair on the Air: Cold War Right Wing Broadcasting and the Public Interest. While immediately recognizable throughout the U.S. and many other countries, media mainstays like X-Men, Star Trek, and Transformers achieved such familiarity through constant reincarnation. In each case, the initial success of a single product led to a long-term embrace of media franchising, a dynamic process in which media workers from different industrial positions shared in and reproduced familiar culture across television, film, comics, games, and merchandising. In Media Franchising, Derek Johnson examines the corporate culture behind these production practices as well as the collaborative and creative efforts involved in conceiving, sustaining, and sharing intellectual properties in media work worlds. Challenging connotations of homogeneity, Johnson shows how the cultural and industrial logic of franchising has encouraged media industries to reimagine creativity as an opportunity for exchange among producers licensees and even consumers Drawing on case studies and interviews with media producers he reveals the meaningful identities cultural hierarchies and struggles for distinction that accompany collaboration within these production networks Media Franchising provides a nuanced portrait of the collaborative cultural production embedded in both the media industries and our own daily lives
