Twenty-six Additional Scientific Papers and Philosophical Essays That Will Eventually Compel Scholars to Rethink the World Daniel Zanou, 2024-01-08. This compilation of twenty six scientific papers and philosophical essays expands the mind-body problem of the French philosopher and mathematician Ren Descartes. We expose the nature of consciousness, we discuss its origin and manifestations in living organisms. We distinguish it from life and elaborate on human existence on Earth. From there we solve the ancient enigma posited by Epicurus, the Greek philosopher. In science we take over Schrodinger's works on the body's entropy and use the research of the Japanese Nobel laureate Yoshinori Ohsumi to explain how non-living atoms transition to living molecules. Francis Crick's faded dream that becomes reality. We delve into the living organisms to explain various losses of consciousness and awareness including sleep syncope and death. We mainly focus on sleep to elucidate this mystery that no living organisms escape. Teaching Science in Secondary Schools

Sandra Amos, Richard Boohan, 2013-10-11. A companion to Aspects of Teaching Secondary Science, the first section of this reader provides an overview of the key issues, discussing the nature of science and its role in the school curriculum. The second section goes on to examine critically the ways in which science is reflected in the school curriculum, while the third section discusses recent curriculum initiatives and developments. Turning the focus from what is taught on to who is taught, section four shows that students are very much active learners in the classroom, making sense of their experiences and constructing their own meanings. The final section covers the role of research in science education, giving examples of research papers and considering how productive collaboration between teachers and researchers can impact upon the
