

Expository Writing

Expository writing is informational writing. It often times explains how or tells why about a topic.

Characteristics of Expository Writing

Introduction	Expository writing needs an introduction. The introduction introduces the reader to the topic and states the main idea, thesis statement, or topic sentence.
Facts and Details	The body of expository writing includes facts and details. Each paragraph should have a topic sentence or main idea and then 3-4 supporting sentences that give details and examples about the main idea.
Conclusion	Expository writing needs a conclusion. This is the final paragraph and it gives the author one more opportunity to state the main idea.
Organization	Strong authors will use one of the non-fiction text structures to help organize their writing (problem and solution, compare and contrast, description, sequence, cause and effect).

The author's purpose of expository writing is to inform.

Literacy Lessons, K-8 Helen Hoffner,2010-08-17 Literacy Lessons K 8 enables teachers to meet IRA and McRel standards with a broad spectrum of instructional techniques that address all areas of the language arts reading writing speaking listening and viewing The book includes lesson plans and activities as well as projects that will engage and motivate students Students will also learn how to find information on a topic they are interested in and how to incorporate their own experiences into activities that meet standards Busy teachers will also find Quick and inexpensive means of creating costumes and props for storytelling Ideas to tempt families to engage in storytelling at home References to K 8 literature to link instruction with authentic text Differentiation techniques for ELLs as well as for students who are working above or below grade level expectations Teachers are always looking for materials that make their job easier and this book provides everything needed to teach literacy lessons effectively

Upper Elementary Reading Lessons Marilyn J. Chambliss,Linda Valli,2011-07-16 Engaging students in worthwhile learning requires more than a knowledge of underlying principles of good teaching It demands considerable practice as well as images of what good teaching in particular situations and for particular purposes might look like This volume provides these images These cases were written from authentic unrehearsed lessons taught by upper elementary classroom teachers to diverse groups of real students in intact classrooms Each lesson contains elements of sound instructional practice from which both preservice and in service teachers can benefit Cases are not meant to be ideal but rather to evoke ways of seeing and thinking about good classroom instruction for all learners Accompanied by analytic commentaries from experts representing a particular perspective such as special education and ESOL these unrehearsed cases are written with the understanding that teaching is complex and multi dimensional The cases are drawn from a four year study of 4th and 5th grade mathematics instruction of culturally diverse classrooms with relatively high rates of students from low income families

Referential and Relational Discourse Coherence in Adults and Children Natalia Gagarina,Renate Musan,2020-06-08 This book combines studies on referential as well as relational coherence and includes approaches to written and to spoken language to production and to comprehension to language specific and to cross linguistic issues to monolingual bilingual and L2 acquisition The theoretical issues and empirical findings discussed are of importance not only for theoretical linguistics but also have a broad potential of practical implication
