Interplays Between Dialogical Learning and Dialogical Self M. Beatrice Ligorio, Margarida César, 2013-04-01 Education is a main issue in all countries Policy makers educators families students and in a more general way societies expect schools to provide a high quality education They also expect students to be able to achieve and to become active and critical citizens As senior researchers in education we address some of the most complex and demanding research questions

How does learning affect identity How does participation to educational settings scenarios and situations impact the way we are or became Can changes in how we perceive our Selves be considered as part of the learning process This book attempts to outline some answers to such broad questions using a very robust and updated theoretical frame the dialogical approach In these chapters very well known international authors from different continents and countries analyze school and educational situations through new lens by considering the teaching and learning processes as multi voiced and socially complex and considering identity development as a true leverage for development The focus on the dialogical nature of both learning and identities makes this book interesting not only for educators and educational researchers but also for anyone interested in human sciences policy makers students and their families We also aimed at producing a book that can be useful for different cultures and educational systems Thus in this book there are researches and comments from different cultural perspectives making it appealing for a very large target public
