Language in Epistemic Access Caroline Kerfoot, Anne-Marie Simon-Vandenberg, 2018-07-26 This book focuses on how to address persistent linguistically structured inequalities in education primarily in relation to South African schools but also in conversation with Australian work and with resonances for other multilingual contexts around the world The book as a whole lays bare the tension between the commitment to multilingualism enshrined in the South African Constitution and language in education policy and the realities of the dominance of English and the virtual absence of indigenous African languages in current educational practices It suggests that dynamic plurilingual pedagogies can be allied with the explicit scaffolding of genre based pedagogies to help redress asymmetries in epistemic access and to re imagine policies pedagogies and practices more in tune with the realities of multilingual classrooms The contributions to this book offer complementary insights on routes to improving access to school knowledge especially for learners whose home language or language variety is different to that of teaching and learning at school All subscribe to similar ideologies which include the view that multilingualism should be seen as a resource rather than a problem in education Commentaries on these chapters highlight evidence based high impact educational responses and suggest that translanguaging and genre may well offer opportunities for students to expand their linguistic repertoires and to bridge epistemological differences between community and school This book was originally published as a special issue of Language and Education The Routledge Handbook of Literacy Studies Jennifer Rowsell, Kate Pahl, 2015-05-15 The Routledge Handbook of Literacy Studies offers a comprehensive view of the field of language and literacy studies With forty three chapters reflecting new research from leading scholars in the field the Handbook pushes at the boundaries of existing fields and combines with related fields and disciplines to develop a lens on contemporary scholarship and emergent fields of inquiry The Handbook is divided into eight sections The foundations of literacy studies Space focused approaches Time focused approaches Multimodal approaches Digital approaches Hermeneutic approaches Making meaning from the everyday Co constructing literacies with communities This is the first handbook of

The Technopolitics of Communication in Modern India Pragya Dhital, 2024-12-12 This book offers a groundbreaking account of the role of media technologies in Indian nationalism and democracy From the Brexit referendum in 2016 to the phenomenon of Trumpism there has been much speculation about the role played by new media in an apparent return of illiberal politics and primordial identities Dhital argues these developments could best be understood by not taking identity for granted as a static and exclusive form of affiliation She also emphasises how the technical and material are interwoven into human thought and action rather than acting upon them externally She accordingly focuses on the technopolitical means by which groups have been ventriloquised during critical periods in Indian political history across various media from newspapers and magazines to radio broadcasts speeches and online platforms Chapters cover prison writing produced during the emergency of 1975-77 regulation of public speech during the 2014 general election and the Citizenship Amendment Act protests of 2019-20 Through these case studies Dhital works towards an alternative more reflexive basis for popular representation one that does not sacralise the people and assume power in their name

Pedagogic Practices, Student Engagement and Equity in Chinese as a Foreign Language Education Wen Xu, 2021-12-27 This book explores and analyses Chinese as a Foreign Language CFL pedagogic practices and learning experiences within a cohort of low socio-economic status students within an Australian primary classroom It demonstrates that in spite of policy and educational discourses underpinning Asian literacies Chinese teaching and learning is a fragile undertaking in Australian schooling The politicisation of CFL education especially in the post COVID 19 era has exacerbated public stereotypes concerning racism and multiculturalism in Australia today Drawing upon Bernstein's theorisation and engagement framework Wen Xu sketches out CFL education as a democratic space where power and control relations can be deliberately operated to reinforce engaging learning experiences She suggests that pedagogic interventions in the name of social justice have the potential to make consequential differences in disadvantaged students' life trajectories and CFL education can be envisioned as an avenue towards socioeconomic mobility instead of being criticised as a platform opposing to liberal ideas In turn she provides insights into teaching younger age CFL learners in the global context in terms of the structuring of pedagogy and curriculum Wen Xu's research will be of interest to students and scholars in sociology of education student engagement pedagogy and curriculum CFL education and languages education as well as pre-service teachers and practitioners who teach Chinese as a Foreign Language
