OSS Operation Black Mail Ann Todd, 2017-09-15 OSS Operation Black Mail is the story of a remarkable woman who fought World War II on the front lines of psychological warfare. Elizabeth Betty P McIntosh spent eighteen months serving in the Office of Strategic Services in what has been called the forgotten theater, China, Burma, India, where she met and worked with characters as varied as Julia Child and Ho Chi Minh. Her craft was black propaganda and her mission was to demoralize the enemy through prevarication and deceit and ultimately convince him to surrender Betty and her crew ingeniously obtained and altered personal correspondence between Japanese soldiers and their families on the home islands of Japan She also ordered the killing of a Japanese courier in the jungles of Burma to plant a false surrender order in his mailbag By the time Betty flew the Hump from Calcutta to China she was acting head of the Morale Operations branch for the entire theater overseeing the production of thousands of pamphlets and radio scripts the generation of fiendishly clever rumors and the printing of a variety of faked Japanese Burmese and Chinese newspapers Her strategy involved targeting not merely the Japanese soldier but the man within the son the husband the father She knew her work could ultimately save lives but never lost sight of the fact that her propaganda was a weapon and her intended target the enemy This is not a typical war story The only beaches stormed are the minds of an invisible enemy Often a great deal of time and effort was expended in conception and production and rarely was it known if even a shred reached the hands of the intended recipient The process was opaque on both ends the origin of a rumor or radio broadcast obscured the target elusive For Betty and her friends time on the front lines of psychological warfare in China Burma India rushed by in a cascade of creativity and innovation played out on a stage where a colonial world was ending and chaos awaited The Second Death of Ava Black A.G. Porter, 2024

The world is on the brink of devastation Natural disasters plagues and death run rampant as the malevolent Goddess of Darkness and Destruction Thyana is free The very fabric of reality unravels as Thyana executes her plan to annihilate humanity Gabriel Matthews thrust into a perilous journey alongside his friends and defected Mavors chases the ominous signs of the apocalypse Branded a traitor and fleeing the only life he's ever known Gabriel is determined to thwart Thyana's intricate scheme and save humanity Yet his ultimate mission becomes intensely personal as he strives not only to rescue the world but also the person who matters most Ava Black Ava liberated from Thyana's clutches grapples with newfound abilities that challenge her very identity Racing against time she seeks to protect her loved ones salvage a crumbling world and perhaps save her own soul Having worked tirelessly to transform into a better person Ava questions her humanity as she battles against an emerging darkness within Will her friends embrace her return Can Gabriel still see the woman she once was The haunting possibility lingers could Ava like Thyana harbor a thirst for blood In this gripping tale of survival redemption and the battle between light and shadow the fate of humanity hangs in the balance Galaxy Formation and

Mergers with Stars and Massive Black Holes Chi-hun Kim, Ji-hoon Kim, 2011 While mounting observational evidence suggests the coevolution of galaxies and their embedded massive black holes MBHs a comprehensive astrophysical understanding which incorporates both galaxies and MBHs has been missing To tackle the nonlinear processes of galaxy formation we develop a state of the art numerical framework which self-consistently models the interplay between galactic components dark matter gas stars and MBHs Utilizing this physically motivated tool we present an investigation of a massive star-forming galaxy hosting a slowly growing MBH in a cosmological LCDM simulation The MBH feedback heats the surrounding gas and locally suppresses star formation in the galactic inner core In simulations of merging galaxies the high resolution adaptive mesh allows us to observe widespread starbursts via shock induced star formation and the interplay between the galaxies and their embedding medium Fast growing MBHs in merging galaxies drive more frequent and powerful jets creating sizable bubbles at the galactic centers We conclude that the interaction between the interstellar gas stars and MBHs is critical in understanding the star formation history black hole accretion history and cosmological evolution of galaxies Expanding upon our extensive experience in galactic simulations we are well poised to apply this tool to other challenging yet highly rewarding tasks in contemporary astrophysics such as high redshift quasar formation Black

Feminist Thought Patricia Hill Collins, 2002-06-01 In spite of the double burden of racial and gender discrimination African American women have developed a rich intellectual tradition that is not widely known In Black Feminist Thought Patricia Hill Collins explores the words and ideas of Black feminist intellectuals as well as those African American women outside academe She provides an interpretive framework for the work of such prominent Black feminist thinkers as Angela Davis bell hooks Alice Walker and Audre Lorde The result is a superbly crafted book that provides the first synthetic overview of Black feminist thought Evangelicalism and the Politics of Reform in Northern Black Thought, 1776-1863 Rita

Roberts, 2011-01-01 During the revolutionary age and in the early republic when racial ideologies were evolving and slavery expanding some northern blacks surprisingly came to identify very strongly with the American cause and to take pride in calling themselves American In this intriguing study Rita Roberts explores this phenomenon and offers an in depth examination of the intellectual underpinnings of antebellum black activists She shows how conversion to Christianity led a significant and influential population of northern blacks to view the developing American republic and their place in the new nation through the lens of evangelicalism American identity therefore even the formation of an African ethnic community and later an African American identity developed within the evangelical and republican ideals of the revolutionary age Evangelical values Roberts contends exerted a strong influence on the strategies of northern black reformist activities specifically abolition anti racism and black community development The activists and reformers commitment to the United States and firm determination to make the country live up to its national principles hinged on their continued faith in the possibility of the collective transformation of all Americans The people of the United States both black and white they believed would become a new citizenry distinct from any population in the world because of their commitment to the tenets of the Christian republican faith Roberts explores the process by which a collective identity formed among northern free blacks and notes the ways in which ministers and other leaders established their African identity through an emphasis on shared oppression She shows why in spite of slavery's expansion in the 1820s and 1830s northern blacks demonstrated more not less commitment to the nation Roberts then examines the Christian influence on racial theories of some of the major abolitionist figures of the antebellum era including Frederick Douglass Martin Delany and especially James McCune Smith and reveals how activists sense of their American identity waned with the intensity of American racism and the passage of laws that further protected slavery in the 1850s But the Civil War and Emancipation Proclamation she explains renewed hope that America would soon become a free and equal nation Impeccably researched Evangelicalism and the Politics of Reform in Northern Black Thought 1776 1863 offers an innovative look at slavery abolition and African American history Black Enterprise ,1984-01 BLACK ENTERPRISE is the ultimate source for wealth creation for African American professionals entrepreneurs and corporate executives Every month BLACK ENTERPRISE delivers timely useful information on careers small business and personal finance Psychology of Blacks Thomas A Parham,Adisa Ajamu,Joseph L. Crackback! Fitzgerald Hill, 2012 Every Saturday in the autumn millions of Americans watch college football They visit leafy campuses tailgate with friends and then sit down to enjoy one of the country's oldest and most beloved sporting traditions. They also witness one of the country's most visible tableaux of racial inequity. Some 120 colleges and universities field teams in the NCAA's top tier of the sport known as the Football Bowl Subdivision. But only a small fraction of those teams are coached by African Americans or other minorities. Yet there seems to be little focus on this issue in today's society even from the African American community itself. Why is it that the National Football League has advanced so much farther in giving opportunities to minority coaches? Dr. Fitzgerald Hill, along with award-winning sportswriter Mark Purdy, attack the racial dynamics of the important Crackback syndrome in which minority coaches are led to believe they actually do have a fair chance at every job opening only to be blindsided at the last minute by hidden forces that undermine their dreams. There is hope for the future but first we have to be willing to look closely at a sensitive topic. That is why Crackback is necessary for everyone, especially college football fans of any color or team. New Criticism and Pedagogical Directions for Contemporary Black Women Writers LaToya Jefferson-James, 2022-03-03

New Criticism and Pedagogical Directions for Contemporary Black Women Writers is a collection of critical and pedagogical essays that shed new light on the creative depths of Black women writers. On the one hand, some Black women writers have been heavily anthologized; they have more often than not been restricted by critical metanarratives. Some of their works have been lionized while others remain neglected. On the other hand, some Black women writers have been ignored and understudied. This collection corrects the gaps in our critical thinking about Black women writers by introducing them to a new generation of undergraduate and graduate students and by presenting pedagogical essays to our colleagues currently working in the field.
