Teaching Writing Primer Paul L. Thomas, 2005 Until a few decades ago student writing stood as a distant third in the three R's Since the late 1970s however students have been asked to write more and teachers have been expected to teach writing more specifically In spite of this mandate however little has been done to prepare teachers for this shift in the curriculum This primer provides a brief history of the field as well as an exploration of what we now know about teaching Teachers entering the field as well as seasoned veterans will find how to foster student writers and to grow as writers themselves

Writing Voices Teresa Cremin, Debra Myhill, 2013-07-03 Drawing upon recent research projects undertaken by the co authors and other research within the wider research community this timely book makes connections to projects and initiatives that are unfolding on the national and international scene Highly Commended for the UKLA Academic Book Award 2013

The Learning and Teaching of Reading and Writing Naomi Flynn, Rhona Stainthorpe, 2006-07-11 This book provides a unique description of teacher pupil interaction during the Literacy Hour in good schools It is based on detailed observations in inner city primary schools that were recognised as effective and improving The analysis is informed by contemporary research into the development and teaching of early literacy The book provides practice based examples of how teachers and schools might adapt their delivery for literacy as they move to greater creativity in their teaching of reading and writing The analysis begins within the classrooms of three expert Key Stage 1 teachers and broadens out in to the wider setting of the schools and their senior management teams An important theme running throughout the book is how the three teachers were able to make exceptional provision for their pupils who were largely second language speakers and from socio economically disadvantaged groups The teachers successful practice grew from their understanding of both early literacy development and planning for individual need The information in this book will enable student teachers recently qualified teachers and teachers interested in enhancing their literacy teaching to develop their practice in a similarly successful way

Literacy through Creativity Prue Goodwin, 2012-09-10 This is a fresh and practical approach to examining the way in which creative arts can be used in the classroom to enhance the learning of literacy in the primary school It includes case studies and activities that clarify the role of creativity in the literacy teaching and advises how to help develop teaching skills This is a must have text for teachers who seek to make literacy learning interesting and fun

Social Justice in Practice in Education Janice Wearmouth, Karen Lindley, Uvanney Maylor, James Shea, 2024-04-12 Exploring Social Justice in Practice in Education focuses on the tensions and challenges to issues of fairness and social and cognitive justice in the sphere of education The terms fairness and social and cognitive justice are often used to justify particular policies and practices in the sphere of education In providing a clear definition of what they should mean in practice this book includes a discussion of and in some cases potential resolutions to tensions and challenges in relation to notions of fairness and social and cognitive justice that are implicit within individuals lived experiences across all phases of education Through their personal narratives the authors illustrate how such tensions and challenges have played out in their own lives They go on to explore differences in interpretations and consequent challenges in putting concepts of social justice into practice Chapters consider important implications across different sectors and phases of education including special educational needs leadership and higher education This insightful volume will enable educators at all levels to hear from students family members significant adults carers and professionals their experiences of fairness and social justice in education and about what could be done in the future to redress injustices It will appeal to readers at all levels in education including those studying for or teaching Education related degrees at bachelors masters and doctoral levels

Mastering Writing at Greater Depth Adam Bushnell,Angela Gill,David Waugh,Rob Smith,2023-02-09 To master the teaching of writing at greater depth teachers first need to know What makes writing greater depth What does it look like How do I support children to develop the skills and creativity to be able to write at greater depth Official guidance lacks the substance and clarity that is needed so where do teachers go for support This book provides teachers with support guidance background theory examples and practical advice for the teaching of writing at greater depth The text highlights the need to take writing beyond transcription into creative composition and not only shows how this is possible but also explores why it matters The second edition is updated with new questions for discussion supporting teacher professional learning and links to the ITT Core Content Framework for trainee teachers Teaching and Evaluating Writing in the Age of Computers and High-Stakes Testing Carl Whithaus, 2005-04-27 Teaching and Evaluating Writing in the Age of Computers and High Stakes Testing offers a theoretical framework case studies and methods for evaluating student writing By examining issues in writing assessment the book discovers four situated techniques of authentic assessment that are already in use at a number of locales throughout the US Contemporary Perspectives on Reading and Spelling Clare Wood, Vincent Connelly, 2009-09-10 With contributions from leading international researchers Contemporary Perspectives on Reading and Spelling offers a critique of current thinking on the research literature into reading reading comprehension and writing Each paper in this volume provides an account of empirical research that challenges aspects of accepted models and widely accepted theories about reading and spelling This book develops the argument for a need to incorporate less widely cited research into popular accounts of written language development and disability challenging the idea that the development of a universal theory of written language development is attainable The arguments within the book are explored in three parts overarching debates in reading and spelling reading and spelling across languages written language difficulties and approaches to teaching Opening up the existing debates and incorporating psychological theory and the politics surrounding the teaching and learning of reading and spelling this edited collection offers some challenging points for reflection about how the discipline of psychology as a whole approaches the study of written language skills Highlighting ground breaking new perspectives this book forms essential reading for all researchers and practitioners with a focus on the development of reading and spelling skills The Elusive Sentence Rita Eulalie Hatfield, Leta Marie Young, 2015-12-08 Across our nation many within our educational system complain that America's children cannot write well Hatfield and Young assert that the problem lies at the foundation of our pedagogy for writing that most elementary writing curricula lack rudimentary instruction at the sentence level The authors introduce a sentence level writing intervention that explicitly defines the elements found in great sentences This intervention forms the foundational framework for writing skills acquisition helping teachers students and writers of all ages to understand how to craft well written sentences and paragraphs Research supports that the most effective instruction is skills based and multisensory therefore Hatfield and Young also introduce a cognitively differentiated writing model which uses arts integrated instruction to enhance learning and memory for other content areas This writing model is based on best practice and this sentence level intervention serves as a precursor for mastering the new writing standards for CCSS It offers novice writers a precise blueprint for what successful writing looks like and clearly defines the elusive sentence

Results Now Mike Schmoker,2006-06-30 According to author Mike Schmoker there is a yawning gap between the most well known essential practices and the reality of most classrooms This gap persists despite the hard often heroic work done by many teachers and administrators Schmoker believes that teachers and administrators may know what the best practices are but they aren't using them or reinforcing them consistently He asserts that our schools are protected by a buffer a protective barrier that prevents scrutiny of instruction by outsiders The buffer exists within the school as well Teachers often know only what is going on in their classrooms and they may be completely in the dark about what other teachers in the school are doing Even principals says Schmoker don't have a clear view of the daily practices of teaching and learning in their schools Schmoker suggests that we need to get beyond this buffer to confront the truth about what is happening in classrooms and to allow teachers to learn from each other and to be supervised properly He outlines a plan that focuses on the importance of consistent curriculum authentic literacy education and professional learning communities for teachers What will students get out of this new approach Learning for life Schmoker argues passionately that students become learners for life when they have more opportunities to engage in strategic reading writing with explicit guidance and argument and discussion Through strong teamwork true leadership and authentic learning schools and their students can reach new heights Results Now is a rallying cry for educators to focus on what counts If they do Schmoker promises the entire school community can count on unprecedented achievements
