Weitz, 2016-01-05 When we think about viruses we tend to consider ones that afflict humans such as those that cause influenza HIV and Ebola Yet vastly more viruses infect single celled microbes Diverse and abundant microbes and the viruses that infect them are found in oceans lakes plants soil and animal associated microbiomes Taking a vital look at the microscopic mode of disease dynamics Quantitative Viral Ecology establishes a theoretical foundation from which to model and predict the ecological and evolutionary dynamics that result from the interaction between viruses and their microbial hosts Joshua Weitz addresses three major questions What are viruses of microbes and what do they do to their hosts How do interactions of a single virus host pair affect the number and traits of hosts and virus populations How do virus host dynamics emerge in natural environments when interactions take place between many viruses and many hosts Emphasizing how theory and models can provide answers Weitz offers a cohesive framework for tackling new challenges in the study of viruses and microbes and how they are connected to ecological processes from the laboratory to the Earth system Quantitative Viral Ecology is an innovative exploration of the influence of viruses in our complex natural world     NEET Foundation Cell Biology Chandan Sengupta, This book has been published with all reasonable efforts taken to make the material error free after the consent of the author No part of this book shall be used reproduced in any manner whatsoever without written permission from the author except in the case of brief quotations embodied in critical articles and reviews The Author of this book is solely responsible and liable for its content including but not limited to the views representations descriptions statements information opinions and references The Content of this book shall not constitute or be construed or deemed to reflect the opinion or expression of the Publisher or Editor Neither the Publisher nor Editor endorse or approve the Content of this book or guarantee the reliability accuracy or completeness of the Content published herein and do not make any representations or warranties of any kind express or implied including but not limited to the implied warranties of merchantability fitness for a particular purpose The Publisher and Editor shall not be liable whatsoever for any errors omissions whether such errors or omissions result from negligence accident or any other cause or claims for loss or damages of any kind including without limitation indirect or consequential loss or damage arising out of use inability to use or about the reliability accuracy or sufficiency of the information contained in this book     Fundamentals of Microbiology Jeffrey C.
