

The background of the slide is a painting depicting a scene of devastation. A city, possibly Jerusalem, is shown in ruins with many dead bodies scattered across the ground. In the foreground, there is a large wooden structure, possibly a table or a platform, with several figures around it, some appearing to be in distress or mourning. The overall tone is somber and dramatic.

The Use and Misuse of Children

Mokokoma Mokhonoana,2017-07-28 Using his wit his rare ability to see through the lies that we sane human beings tell each other in order to hide our selfishness and his courage to call a spade a spade which is without a doubt rarely found in someone who makes a living from speaking or writing Mokokoma Mokhonoana author of Divided Conquered and writer of not a few worldview altering aphorisms lucidly explores the use and misuse of children by human beings and things such as Mother Nature religions and churches countries and companies Among other things Mokokoma using brief and potent sentences touches on the real reason or reasons why you were intentionally brought into this troubled world Or why your mother if you were conceived unintentionally did not order ask or beg someone to end your life way before you had to be pushed or pulled out of her womb      Societal Stress and Law Larry D. Barnett,2023-06-14 Societal Stress and Law draws attention to the social side effects of law by developing the sociological concept of society level stress a corollary of the concept of individual level stress in the biological sciences To encourage interest in societal stress the book looks at 1 instances of law adopted by American states that the U S Supreme Court held unconstitutional and 2 actions by American states with regard to a proposal to amend the federal Constitution The Court rulings and the proposed constitutional amendment were capable of producing societal stress because they were seen by a sizeable segment of the U S public as being incompatible with significant American traditions In original studies that apply logistic regression to state level statistical data the book identifies sociological variables that predict state differences in the adoption of this law and state differences in actions on the proposed constitutional amendment Because these variables represent societal agents that affected whether a state experienced social stress from the rulings and proposal the book blends theory with empirical research and illustrates how each can support the other in law focused scholarship      On Animals David L. Clough,2018-12-27 This book presents an authoritative and comprehensive survey of human practice in relation to other animals together with a Christian ethical analysis building on the theological account of animals which David Clough developed in On Animals Volume I Systematic Theology 2012 It argues that a Christian understanding of other animals has radical implications for their treatment by humans with the human use and abuse of non human animals for food the most urgent immediate priority Following an introduction examining the task of theological ethics in relation to non human animals and the way it relates to other accounts of animal ethics this book surveys and assess the use humans make of other animals for food for clothing for labour as research subjects for sport and entertainment as pets or companions and human impacts on wild animals The result is both a state of the art account of what humans are doing to other animals and a persuasive argument that Christians in particular have strong faith based reasons to acknowledge the significance of the issues raised and change their practice in response      Zombies in Western Culture John Vervaeke,Christopher Mastropietro,Filip Miscevic,2017-06-15 Why has the zombie become such a pervasive figure in twenty first century popular culture John Vervaeke Christopher Mastropietro and Filip Miscevic seek to answer this question by arguing that particular aspects of the zombie common to a variety of media forms reflect a crisis in modern Western culture. The authors examine the essential features of the zombie including mindlessness, ugliness and homelessness and argue that these reflect the outlook of the contemporary West and its attendant zeitgeists of anxiety, alienation, disconnection and disenfranchisement. They trace the relationship between zombies and the theme of secular apocalypse demonstrating that the zombie draws its power from being a perversion of the Christian mythos of death and resurrection. Symbolic of a lost Christian worldview, the zombie represents a world that can no longer explain itself nor provide us with instructions for how to live within it. The concept of domicide or the destruction of home is developed to describe the modern crisis of meaning that the zombie both represents and reflects. This is illustrated using case studies including the relocation of the Anishinaabe of the Grassy Narrows First Nation and the upheaval of population displacement in the Hellenistic period. Finally, the authors invoke and reformulate symbols of the four horsemen of the apocalypse as rhetorical analogues to frame those aspects of contemporary collapse that elucidate the horror of the zombie. Zombies in Western Culture: A Twenty First Century Crisis is required reading for anyone interested in the phenomenon of zombies in contemporary culture. It will also be of interest to an interdisciplinary audience including students and scholars of culture studies, semiotics, philosophy, religious studies, eschatology, anthropology, Jungian studies and sociology. Un/familiar Theology Susannah Cornwall, 2017-06-15. Through engagement with theologies of adoption, pro natalism, marriage and queer theology, Susannah Cornwall figures developments in models of marriage and family not as distortions of or divergences from the divinely ordained blueprint but as developments already of a piece with these institutions being. Much Christian theological discussion of family, sex and marriage seems to claim that they are or should be unchanging and immaculate; that to celebrate their shifting and developing natures is to reject them as good gifts of God. However, models of marriage, family, parenting and reproduction have changed and are still in some cases radically changing. These changes are not all a raging tide to be turned back but in continuity with goods deeply embedded in the tradition. Alternative forms of marriage and family stand as signs of the hope of the possibility of change. Changed institutions such as same sex marriage are new beginnings with the potential to be fruitful and generative in their own right. In them, humans create new imaginaries which more fully acknowledge the interactive nature of our relationships with the world and the divine. Jesus and the Making of the Modern Mind, 1380-1520 Luke Clossey, 2024-05-02. For his fifteenth century followers, Jesus was everywhere: from baptism to bloodcults to bowling. This sweeping and unconventional investigation looks at Jesus across one hundred forty years of social, cultural and intellectual history. Mystics married him; Renaissance artists painted him in three dimensions; Muslim poets praised his life-giving breath; and Christopher Columbus brought the symbol of his cross to the Americas. Beyond the European periphery, this global study follows Jesus across and sometimes between religious boundaries from Greenland to Kongo to China. Amidst this diversity, Jesus and the Making of the Modern Mind, 1380-1520 offers readers sympathetic and immersive insight into the religious realities of its subjects To this end this book identifies two perspectives one uncovers hidden meanings and unexpected connections while the other restricts Jesus to the space and time of human history Minds that believed in Jesus and those that opposed him made use of both perspectives to make sense of their worlds This book includes over one hundred images tables and audio clips     The Bloomsbury Handbook to Studying Christians George D.
