God Was African:

God was African Nkemngong Nkengasong, 2014-12-01 When Kendem a varsity instructor returns to his native Lewoh countryside where he spent his childhood he is seeking relief from the complexity of human civilization after attending the Fulbright Institute in the United States Instead he is confronted with two seething issues how to reveal to his sick and troubled mother the situation in which he finds his elder brother the successor of Mbe Tanju Ngongs household who travelled to the United States many years before and had never returned and the dispute over Fuo Beyanos funeral which is tearing the land apart whether the deceased village chief should be given a Christian burial or he should according to the age old tradition of Lewoh people go through a ritual to enable him return and continue ruling his people God in Africa

Malcolm J. McVeigh, 1974 Combines clarity and simplicity of style with intuitive and scholarly depth bringing the Christian and African concepts of God into focus Postcolonializing God Emmanuel Y. Lartey, 2013-08-13 Postcolonializing God examines how African Christianity especially as a practical spirituality can be truly a postcolonial reality The book offers thoughts as to how African Christians and by that token others who were colonial subjects may practice a spirituality that bears the hallmarks of their authentic cultural heritage even if that makes them distinctly different from Christians from the colonizing nations There are themes in both the Hebrew Bible and the Christian Scriptures in which God s activities result in shattering hegemony overthrowing the powerful diversifying communities and affirming pluralism These have by and large been ignored or downplayed in the formation of Christian communities by western and westernized Christians in Africa The effect of this is that much of the practice of African Christians imitates that of a European Christianity of bygone times Postcolonializing God charts a different course uplifting these ignored readings of scripture and identifying how they are expressed again by Africans who courageously seek through the practices of mysticism and African culture to portray a God whose actions liberate and diversify human experience Postcolonializing God seeks to express the human diversity that seems to be the Creator s ongoing desire for the world and thereby to continue to manifest the manifold and diverse nature and wisdom of God It is only as humans refuse to be created in the image of any other human beings that the richness and complexity of the divine image will be more closely viewed throughout the world The Origins and Development of African Theology Gwinyai H. Muzorewa, 2000-04-05 The Origins and Development of African theology is a very informative survey of African theology over approximately the last twenty years The author is widely read on the subject as far as English publications go and highlights the salient issues with balanced objectivity The literature both as discussed in the substance of the book and in the bibliography is also a valuable source for further study of African theology John Mbiti author of Prayers of African Religion God in Africa Sednak Yankson, 1915-06-20 God In Africa demonstrates the Various African Stories shared in common with the Bible It is the stories of the interaction between Africa and the God and the people of the Bible

Joseph Ratzinger and the Future of African Theology Maurice Ashley Agbaw-Ebai, Matthew Levering, 2021-12-27

This book engages the theology of Joseph Ratzinger Pope Benedict XVI in dialogue with African Catholic theological concerns and challenges. After an Introduction by Matthew Levering arguing that African Catholic theology is an important resource for the whole Church, the book contains ten chapters by African and non-African Catholic theologians. Paulinus Odozor investigates whether and if so how the God of Jesus Christ stands in continuity with the God known to African Traditional Religions. Paul Latubun Adaja addresses faith and reason in light of the current African anthropological crisis. Tegha Nji and Valery Akoh connect Ratzinger's idea of pro existence with traditional African understandings of solidarity. Jacob Phillips compares the theologies of Robert Cardinal Sarah and Joseph Ratzinger. Benedict XVI. Dennis Kasule examines the requirements of a New Evangelization for Africa in light of the case of Uganda. Joseph Lugalambi proposes that the Catholic liturgies of Africa are in need of reform. Mary Reginald N. Anibueze explores the Eucharist as a socio-communitarian event. Emery de Gaal reflects upon Ratzinger's theology of inculturation. Joseph Ogbonnaya treats Caritas in Veritate with a focus upon the case of Nigeria. Maurice Ashley Agbaw Ebai meditates upon Ratzinger's understanding of political power.

How God Became African Gerrie ter Haar, 2009 We Have Been Believers James H. Evans, 1992. In this the first full-scale black systematic theology in twenty years, James Evans emerges as a major and distinctive voice in American theology. Seeking to overcome the chasm between church practice and theological reflection, Evans situates theology squarely in the nexus of faith with freedom. There, with a sure touch, he uplifts revelatory aspects of black religious experience that reanimate classical areas of theology and he creates a theology with a heart, a soul, and a voice that speaks directly to our condition.

The Oxford Handbook of African American Theology Katie G. Cannon, Anthony B. Pinn, 2014. The Oxford Handbook of African American Theology brings together leading scholars in the field to present a critical and comprehensive analysis of African American Theology in its many forms and contexts, providing an interdisciplinary examination of the nature, content, and meaning of this form of theology.

The Paradigm of Greed and Its Impact on African Americans Dr. C. E. Pender, 2005-08. These United States were founded on the religion of greed; until this day, it continues to have divesting impacts on the African American population. The Paradigm of Greed is the result of the CRABS cognitive retrogression affecting the black society, which is an internal destruction switch imbedded in most African Americans from the days of slavery, which for the most part never really ended. This self-destruction is directly linked to assimilation, so therefore, in this spell book, you will understand why there is such an alarming rate of black-on-black crime, character killing, jealousy, and envy. Now and only now, the author has masterfully uncovered the sinister plot of how the whole psychological program encourages black people to be their own worst enemies. Read how it works and more importantly, hunt and expose the real enemy, which is secular greed. Read of America's new cash crop and how dependency is the new hangman. Understand that being rich and wealthy are not the same; in short, it is all about who controls the money. The author has woven his argument into a colorful disciplinary program which could prove to reduce the impact of the CRABS created by the obsession of pure greed.

African Origins of Monotheism Gwinyai H. Muzorewa, 2014-10-29 African Origins of Monotheism recasts an African knowledge of God in a new and original way It aims to recapture concepts of God as originally reflected upon by pristine African religious thinkers Muzorewa is seeking after the traditional African understandings of the Divine which trace their origins back before the rise of Judaism Christianity and Islam Monotheism he maintains is the ancient view of God ubiquitous across the continent of Africa indeed monotheism comes out of Africa The book challenges the way that the idea of God has been manipulated by Eurocentric agendas by colonizers enslavers and empire builders all of whom were using God talk to achieve their own personal ends In African thinking the God concept is guided by a sense of the presence of the all pervasive and omnipresent God which has instilled in the people a sense of respect for life at all costs Thus respect is not based on a commandment or on fear but on a propensity for affinity

Black Women and Breast Cancer Elizabeth A. Williams, 2018-11-16 Christian theology at its core is a story about someone being in trouble In response to this trouble the triune God intervenes God identifies with those in trouble walking with them through the experience Yet the God of Christian theology goes a step further God prevails over trouble God is an overcomer Black women with breast cancer identify with this God They also see themselves in this theological narrative They see themselves in the midst of troubles troubles like racism poverty and environmental exposures that create the disease affecting their bodies They see the troubles of breast cancer their biological disposition towards more aggressive cancers later stage diagnoses poorer prognoses diminished quality of care and worse outcomes Black women also palpably feel the troubles breast cancer brings like fear physical disfigurement social isolation being stereotyped for treatment decisions abandonment and even death Black women feel the myriad troubles breast cancer brings But Black women also know God in their troubles They know an active God who identifies with and prioritizes their needs They know this God through scripture and experience as God who puts them front and center And because they know God as an overcomer and creative force they know themselves as overcomers For with God their troubles do not last always Black women with breast cancer construct a cultural theology of breast cancer out of knowing God Borne out of experiences of the Black Church womanist theology and their intersectional identities of race class and gender this theological investigation informed by anthropology examines how Black women construct an ontology of who God is and how God operates and gain a God consciousness that shapes their response to the disease Using pain faith and testimony as tools to struggle against breast cancer Black survivors theology transforms them from victims of breast cancer to change agents Out of their lives as survivors comes a theology of complex hope one cognizant of Black women's breast cancer disparities yet oriented towards Black women's achievement of health in the present and the future a sufficient hope to sustain Black women through it all
