Mobility, Spatiality, and Resistance in Literary and Political Discourse Christian Beck, 2021-11-11 Mobility Space and Resistance Transformative Spatiality in Literary and Political Discourse draws from various disciplines such as geography sociology political science gender studies and poststructuralist thought to posit the productive capabilities of literature in political action and at the same time show how literary art can resist the imposition and domination of oppressive systems of our spatial lives The various approaches topics and types of literature discussed in this volume display a concern for social issues that can be addressed in and through literature The essays address social injustice oppression discrimination and their spatial representations While offering interpretations of literature this collection seeks to show how literary spaces contribute to understanding changing or challenging physical spaces of our lived world

Narratives of Dislocation in the Arab World Nadeen Dakkak, 2023-03-08 This monograph explores and investigates narratives of physical psychological and emotional dislocation that take place within the Arab world approaching them as manifestations of the Arabic word ghurba or estrangement as a feeling and state of being Distancing itself from the centrality of the West in postcolonial and Arabic literary studies the book explores experiences of migration displacement and cosmopolitanism that do not directly ensue from the encounter with Europe or the European other Covering texts from the Levant Egypt the Arabian Peninsula and beyond from the 19th 20th and 21st centuries the book grounds narratives of dislocation in the political social and cultural structures that affect the everyday lived experiences of individuals and communities An analysis of Arabic Turkish and English texts encompassing fiction memoirs and translations highlights less visible narratives of ghurba specifically amongst ethnic minorities and religious communities Ultimately the chapters contribute to a picture of the Arab world as a place of ghurba where mobile and immobile subjects foreigners and local inhabitants alike encounter alienation Bringing together a diverse range of academic perspectives the book will be of interest to students and scholars in postcolonial and comparative literary studies history and Arabic and Middle East studies

Mother of Strangers Suad Amiry, 2023-08-01 A BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR from NPR Set in Jaffa in between 1947 and 1951 this fable like historical novel of young love darkly humorous and touching Oprah Daily is based on a true story during the beginning of the destruction of Palestine and displacement of its people Based on the true story of two Jaffa teenagers Mother of Strangers follows the daily lives of Subhi a fifteen year old mechanic and Shams the thirteen year old student he hopes to marry one day In this prosperous and cosmopolitan port city with its bustling markets cinemas and cafés on the hills overlooking the Mediterranean Sea we meet many other unforgettable characters as well including Khawaja Michael the elegant and successful owner of orange groves above the harbor Mr Hassan the tailor who makes Subhi's treasured English suit which he hopes will change his life and the very mischievous and outrageous Uncle Habeeb who insists on introducing Subhi to the local bordello With a thriving orange export business Jaffa had always been a city welcoming to outsiders the Mother of Strangers where Muslims Jews and Christians lived peacefully together Once the bombardment of the city begins in April 1948 Suad Amiry gives us the grim but fascinating details of the shock panic and destruction that ensues Jaffa becomes unrecognizable with neighborhoods flattened families removed from their homes and separated and those who remain in constant danger of arrest and incarceration Most of the population flees eastward to Jordan or by sea to Lebanon in the north or to Egypt and Gaza in the south Subhi and Shams will never see each other again Suad Amiry has written a vivid and devastating account of a seminal moment in the history of the Middle East the beginning of the end of Palestine and a portrait of a city irrevocably changed Teaching Palestine on an Israeli University Campus Daphna

Golan-Agnon, 2020-11-16 The word occupation is not heard in classrooms on the Hebrew University campus at the heart of Palestinian East Jerusalem The war outside is not spoken of Israeli and Palestinian students unsettle this denial for the first time in a practice led course on human rights in the reality around them Readers join the students for a walking tour of the Palestinian neighborhoods surrounding the Mt Scopus campus They explore the complex relations between education civil engagement and the occupation which present themselves in the Palestinian neighborhoods of Issawiyye Sheikh Jarrah and Lifta These relations then make their way into the classroom where Palestinian and Israeli students engage with one another for the first time

Jerusalem Matthew Teller,2022-09-27 This unique absorbing biography of Jerusalem brings to light its overlooked histories and diverse contemporary voices In Jerusalem what you see and what is true are two different things The Old City has never had four quarters as its maps proclaim And beyond the crush and frenzy of its major religious sites many of its quarters are little known to visitors its people ignored and their stories untold Nine Quarters of Jerusalem lets the communities of the Old City speak for themselves Ranging from ancient past to political present it evokes the city s depth and cultural diversity Matthew Teller s highly original biography features the Old City s Palestinian and Jewish communities but also spotlights its Indian and African populations its Greek and Armenian and Syriac cultures its downtrodden Dom Gypsy families and its Sufi mystics It discusses the sources of Jerusalem s holiness and the ideas often startlingly secular that have shaped lives within its walls It is an evocation of place through story led by the voices of Jerusalemites Stone Men Andrew Ross,2021-04-06

Winner of the 2019 Palestine Book Awards They demolish our houses while we build theirs This is how a Palestinian stonemason in line at a checkpoint outside a Jerusalem suburb described his life to Andrew Ross Palestinian stone men using some of the best quality limestone deposits in the world and drawing on generations of artisanal knowledge have built almost every state in the Middle East except one of their own Today the business of quarrying cutting fabricating and dressing is the Occupied Territories largest private employer and generator of revenue and supplies the construction industry in Israel along with other countries in the region and overseas Ross s engrossing surprising and gracefully written story of this fascinating ancient trade shows how the stones of historic Palestine and Palestinian labor have been used to build the state of Israel in the process constructing facts on the ground even while the industry is central to Palestinians own efforts to erect bulwarks against the Occupation For more than a century the hands that built Israel s houses schools offices bridges and even its separation barriers have been Palestinian Looking at the Palestinian Israeli conflict in a new light this book largely based on field interviews in the region asks how this record of labor and achievement can and should be recognized Overlooking the Border Dana Hercborgs,2018-10-01 An ethnographic tapestry of personal and institutional narratives about Jerusalem s social history Overlooking the Border Narratives of Divided Jerusalemby Dana Hercborgs continues the dialogue surrounding the social history of Jerusalem The book s starting point is the border that separated the city between Jordan and Israel in 1948 1967 a lesser known but significant period for cultural representations of Jerusalem Based on ethnographic fieldwork the book juxtaposes Israeli and Palestinian personal narratives about the past with contemporary museum exhibits street plaques tourism and real estate projects that are reshaping the city since the decline of the peace process and the second

intifada What emerges is a portrayal of Jerusalem both as a local place with unique rhythms and topography and as a setting for national imaginaries and agendas with their attendant political and social tensions As sites of memory Jerusalem's homes streets and natural areas form the setting for emotionally charged narratives about belonging and rights to place Recollections of local customs and lifeways in the mid twentieth century coalesce around residents desire for stability amid periods of war dispossession and relocation intertwining the mythical with the mundane Hercbergs begins by taking the reader to the historically Arab neighborhoods of West Jerusalem whose streets are a battleground for competing historical narratives about the Israeli Arab War of 1948 She goes on to explore the connections and tensions between Mizrahi Jews and Palestinians living across the border from one another in Musrara a neighborhood straddling West and East Jerusalem The author rounds out the monograph with a semiotic analysis of contemporary tourism and architectural ventures that are entrenching ethno national separation in the post Oslo period These rhetorical expressions illuminate what it means to be a Jerusalemite in the context of the city's fraught history Overlooking the Border examines the social and geographic significance of borders for residents sense of self place and community and for representations of the city both locally and abroad It is certain to be of value to scholars and advanced undergraduate and graduate students of Middle Eastern studies history urban ethnography and Israeli and Jewish studies

Till We Have Built Jerusalem Adina Hoffman, 2016-04-05 A biographical excavation of one of the world's great troubled cities A remarkable view of one of the world's most beloved and troubled cities Adina Hoffman's Till We Have Built Jerusalem is a gripping and intimate journey into the very different lives of three architects who helped shape modern Jerusalem The book unfolds as an excavation It opens with the 1934 arrival in Jerusalem of the celebrated Berlin architect Erich Mendelsohn a refugee from Hitler's Germany who must reckon with a complex new Middle Eastern reality Next we meet Austen St Barbe Harrison Palestine's chief government architect from 1922 to 1937 Steeped in the traditions of Byzantine and Islamic building this most private of public servants finds himself working under the often stifling and violent conditions of British rule And in the riveting final section Hoffman herself sets out through the battered streets of today's Jerusalem searching for traces of a possibly Greek possibly Arab architect named Spyro Houris Once a fixture on the local scene Houris is now utterly forgotten though his grand Armenian tile clad buildings still stand a ghostly testimony to the cultural fluidity that has historically characterized Jerusalem at its best A beautifully written rumination on memory and forgetting place and displacement Till We Have Built Jerusalem uncovers the ramifying layers of one great city's buried history as it asks what it means everywhere to be foreign and to belong

Sophie Halaby in Jerusalem Laura S. Schor, 2019-08-30 A pioneer among Palestinian artists Sophie Halaby was the first Arab woman to study art in Paris subsequently living independently as a professional painter in Jerusalem throughout her life She was born in 1906 in Kiev to a Russian mother and a Christian Arab father Her family fled to Jerusalem in 1917 in the wake of the Russian Revolution Her life was marked by violence and war including the Arab Revolt from 1936 to 1939 the Nakba in 1948 and the Six Day War in 1967 In response Halaby drew a series of political cartoons criticizing British rule and Zionist goals later in life she followed the work of younger artists who supported the Palestine liberation movement However the political turmoil of her times is largely not depicted in her art Instead her work is a tribute to the enduring beauty of the landscape and flora of Jerusalem often sketched in pen and ink or red and black chalk and painted with egg tempera oils and watercolors Schor's compelling biography shines new light on this little known artist and enriches our understanding of modern Palestinian history
