radical transformations that characterized American culture between the early republic and the age of imperial expansion Part I consists of 7 systematic essays on key historical and critical frameworks including debates about race and citizenship transnationalism environmentalism and print culture as well as sentimentalism romance and the gothic realism and naturalism Part II provides 22 essays on individual novels each combining an introduction to relevant cultural contexts with a fresh close reading and the discussion of critical perspectives shaped by literary and cultural theory

An Illustrated and Popular Story of the World's First Parliament of Religions ... ,1893 Narrating Nonhuman Spaces Marco Caracciolo, Marlene Karlsson Marcussen, David Rodriguez, 2021-08-18 Recent debates about the Anthropocene have prompted a re negotiation of the relationship between human subjectivity and nonhuman matter within a wide range of disciplines This collection builds on the assumption that our understanding of the nonhuman world is bound up with the experience of space thinking about and with nonhuman spaces destabilizes human scale assumptions Literary form affords this kind of nonanthropocentric experience one role of the critic in the Anthropocene is to foreground the function of space and description in challenging the conventional link between narrative and human inter subjectivity Bringing together New Formalism ecocriticism and narrative theory the included essays demonstrate that literature can transgress the strong and long established boundary of the human frame that literary and narrative scholarship clings to The focus is firmly on the contemporary but with strategic samplings in earlier cultural texts the American transcendentalists modernist fiction that anticipate present day anxieties about the nonhuman while at the same time offering important conceptual tools for working through them

The Golden Book Magazine ,1929 Muse in the Machine Mark Conroy,2004 A writer who simply panders to the public is seldom taken for an artist An artist who cannot publish is seldom granted a career This dilemma the subject of Muse in the Machine has been home to many authors of serious fiction since the eighteenth century But it is especially pointed for American writers since the United States never fostered a sustainable elite culture readership Its writers have always been reliant on mass publicity s machinery to survive and when they depict that machinery they also depict that reliance and the desire to transcend its banal formulas This book looks at artist tales from Henry James to don DeLillo s Mao II but also engages more indirect expressions of this tension between Romantic individualism and commercial requirements in Nathanael West Vladimir Nabokov and Thomas Pynchon It covers the twentieth century but its focus is not another rehearsal of media theory or word versus image Rather it aims to show how various novels about publicity culture also enact their authors own dramas how they both need and try to critique the machine In subject as well as approach this study questions the current impasse between those who say that the aesthetic aspires to its own pure realm and those who insist that it partakes of everyday practicality Both sides are right this book examines the consequences of that reality
