The Buildings of Peter Harrison John Fitzhugh Millar,2014-10-20 Perhaps the most important architect ever to have worked in America Peter Harrison s renown suffers from the destruction of most of his papers when he died in 1775 He was born in Yorkshire England in 1716 and trained to be an architect as a teenager He also became a ship captain and soon sailed to ports in America where he began designing some of the most iconic buildings of the continent In a clandestine operation he procured the plans for the French Canadian fortress of Louisbourg enabling Massachusetts Governor William Shirley to capture it in 1745 This setback forced the French to halt their operation to capture all of British America and to give up British territory they had captured in India As a result he was rewarded with commissions to design important buildings in Britain and in nearly all British colonies around the world and he became the first person ever to have designed buildings on six continents He designed mostly in a neo Palladian style and invented a way of building wooden structures so as to look like carved stone wooden rustication He also designed some of America s most valuable furniture including inventing the coveted block front and introducing the bombe motif In America he lived in Newport Rhode Island and in New Haven Connecticut where he died at the beginning of the War of Independence

Protecting Historic Architecture and Museum Collections from Natural Disasters Barclay G. Slavery, Geography and Empire in Nineteenth-Century Marine Landscapes of Montreal and Jamaica CharmaineA. Nelson,2017-07-05 Slavery Geography and Empire in Nineteenth Century Marine Landscapes of Montreal and Jamaica is among the first Slavery Studies books and the first in Art History to juxtapose temperate and tropical slavery Charmaine A Nelson explores the central role of geography and its racialized representation as landscape art in imperial conquest One could easily assume that nineteenth century Montreal and Jamaica were worlds apart but through her astute examination of marine landscape art the author re connects these two significant British island colonies sites of colonial ports with profound economic and military value Through an analysis of prints illustrated travel books and maps the author exposes the fallacy of their disconnection arguing instead that the separation of these colonies was a retroactive fabrication designed in part to rid Canada of its deeply colonial history as an integral part of Britain s global trading network which enriched the motherland through extensive trade in crops produced by enslaved workers on tropical plantations The first study to explore James Hakewill s Jamaican landscapes and William Clark s Antiguan genre studies in depth it also examines the Montreal landscapes of artists including Thomas Davies Robert Sproule George Heriot and James Duncan Breaking new ground Nelson reveals how gender and race mediated the aesthetic and scientific access of such mainly white male artists She analyzes this moment of deep political crisis for British slave owners between the end of the slave trade in 1807 and complete abolition in 1833 who employed visual culture to imagine spaces free of conflict and to alleviate their pervasive anxiety about slave resistance Nelson explores how vision and cartographic knowledge translated into authority which allowed colonizers to civilize the terrains of the so called New World while belying the oppression of slavery and indigenous displacement
