This book searches for an answer to this question by keeping its focus on India from after Independence to the millennia. How does the urban space and the literature depicting it form a dialogue within? How have Indian cities grown in the past six decades as well as the literature focused on it? How does the city lit depart from organic realism to dissonant themes of reclamation? Most importantly, who does the city and its narratives belong to? Through the juxtaposition of critical theories sociological data urban studies and variant literary works by a wide range of Indian authors this book is divided into four temporal phases the nation building of the 50 60s the dictatorial 70s the neoliberalization of the 80 90s and the early 2000s Each section covers the dominant socio political thematic of the time and its effect on urbanism along with historical data from various resources followed by an analysis of contemporaneously significant literary works novel short stories plays poetry and graphic novel Each chapter comments on how literature perceived as a historical phenomenon frames real and imagined constructs and experiences of cities To give the reader a more expansive idea of the complex nature of city lit the literary examples abound not only Indian Writings in English but vernacular cult works as well with suitable translations With its focus on philosophy urban studies and a unique canon of literature this book offers elements of critical discussion to researchers emergent university disciplines and curious readers alike
