Travellers, Merchants and Settlers in the Eastern Mediterranean, 11th-14th Centuries David Jacoby,2023-05-31

This collection of studies the eighth by David Jacoby covers a period witnessing intensive geographic mobility across the Mediterranean illustrated by a growing number of Westerners engaging in pilgrimage crusade trading and shipping or else driven by sheer curiosity This movement also generated western settlement in the eastern Mediterranean region A complex encounter of Westerners with eastern Christians and the Muslim world occurred in crusader Acre the focus of two papers a major emporium it was also the scene of fierce rivalry between the Italian maritime powers The fall of the crusader states in 1291 put an end to western mobility in the Levant and required a restructuring of trade in the region The next five studies show how economic incentives promoted western settlement in the Byzantine provinces conquered by western forces during the Fourth Crusade and soon after Venice fulfilled a major function in Latin Constantinople from 1204 to 1261 The city's progressive economic recovery in that period paved the way for its role as transit station furthering western trade and colonization in the Black Sea region Venice had also a major impact on demographic and economic developments in Euboea located along the maritime route connecting Italy to Constantinople On the other hand military factors drove an army of western mercenaries to establish in central Greece a Catalan state which survived from 1311 to the 1380s

South Korea's Foreign Aid Hyo-sook Kim, 2021-12-28 Kim examines the impact of domestic politics in accomplishing South Korea's middle power diplomacy through the provision of foreign aid Since the 2000s the rise of emerging nations as donors has brought about a remarkable transition in the international development community South Korea has closed the gap with other Development Assistance Committee donors in terms of the quality of its aid In doing so it has taken on a more active role as a middle power acting as an agenda setter and a mediator in the field of development and many other wide policy areas including trade finance environment security and peacekeeping What factors then have encouraged South Korea to maintain and enhance the existing international development system Not only how they behave but also how their behaviour is determined is essential to truly understand the impact of emerging donors on the existing order Kim highlights the significance of domestic politics in determining South Korea's foreign aid behaviour framing it in terms of South Korea's wider middle power diplomatic strategy This book will be of great value to scholars of South Korean politics and foreign policy as well as to international relations scholars with an interest in the foreign aid policy of middle powers

Dramatic Global Population Growth

Embraces the Growing Older Population Edward A McKinney, 2018-11-16 The world is witnessing a dramatic demographic population growth explosion across all age groups that had its beginning around the early 1800s when the first billion people in population was recorded. Most importantly, there has been an increasing growth in the older population. Does population aging matter in the twenty-first century? Yes, it matters because, as research has pointed out, the increasing older population globally will have a significant impact on all essential societal systems: the family, pensions and retirement, and financial institutions, as well as medical health and social systems. This growth explosion or phenomenon will affect all continents, countries, and regions regardless of economic, political, and military power. Causative factors for this global growth in population have come about primarily as a result of medical advances, innovations, agricultural development, and the industrial revolution, especially the development of railways, seaways, and highways. A major emphasis of the book focuses on several very important factors: the growing older population, as aforementioned, especially its impact on all of essential societal systems, and the subject of ageism. Ageism becomes extremely important considering that the growing older population, the silver tsunami, represents the new majority. This new majority will no longer be ignored. Gerontologists for years have attempted to call attention to the fact. Expectations for old people are based on negative age stereotypes. Members of American society generally expect and even encourage the aged to be asexual, intellectually rigid, unproductive, ineffective, and disengaged. Seniors are supposed to stay out of the way, sit in their rocking chairs, and enjoy the golden years. They are expected to be inactive, invisible, but happy. Levin J and Levin W. Ageism: Prejudice and Discrimination Against the Elderly. California: Wadsworth Publishing, 1941. pp. 97-98. Speaking of being ignored, why aren't more members of the older population involved at the decision-making tables in shaping a society for all ages? After all, they would bring years of experiences, skills, knowledge, and values for creating a society for all ages in the twenty-first century with justice and human rights for all. Currently, there is a global movement with a goal of the eradication of ageism in all of its forms. Some will recall from several decades ago the Grey Panther Movement in America with a similar mission of the eradication of all injustices at the time being experienced by the older population. The current movement says, "The time is now, not later." One major social injustice being experienced by the growing old population globally is the lack of income security in old age, including the lack of access to other essential services such as medical health and social, including long-term care. More than 50 percent, 51 percent of older persons globally do not have basic income security or a social pension in retirement. A more alarming statistic is that in Sub-Saharan Africa, forty-seven countries, eighty-two percent, 82.5% of retirees do not have a social pension. Yes, for the older population, the new majority, the time is now for correcting the aforementioned injustices. Maybe what is needed is a human seismic force comprising the new majority to initiate a social movement with a goal of the eradication of all forms of ageism and ensuring that the growing older population will live in dignity and respect in later life, including social protection pensions.
