Stephen N. Gaiski,2009 Marketing and Consumption in Modern Japan Kazuo Usui,2014-03-05 This book explores the development in Japan throughout the twentieth century of marketing and consumerism It shows how Japan had a long established indigenous traditional approach to marketing separate from Western approaches to marketing and discusses how the Japanese approach to marketing was applied in the form of new marketing activities which responding to changing patterns of consumption contributed considerably to Japan s economic success The book concludes with a discussion of how Japanese approach to marketing is likely to develop at a time when globalisation and international marketing are having an increasing impact in Japan Women's Fiction 1945-2005 Deborah Philips,2007-11-01 Organised around each decade of the post war period this book analyses novels written by and for women from 1945 to the present Each chapter identifies a specific genre in popular fiction for women which marked that period and provides case studies focusing on writers and texts which enjoyed a wide readership Despite their popularity these novels remain largely outside the canon of women s writing and are often unacknowledged by feminist literary criticism However these texts clearly touched a nerve with a largely female readership and so offer a means of charting the changes in ideals of femininity and in the tensions and contradictions in gender identities in the post war period Their analysis offers new insights into the shifting demands aspirations and expectations of what a woman could and should be over the last half century Through her analysis of women s writing and reading Philips sets out to challenge the distinction between popular and literary fiction arguing that neat categories such as popular middle brow and serious fiction need more careful definition      Technical Communication Paul V.
