Abstract—The authors examined the relationship between the use of a computerized decision support system (DSS) and the use of a decision tree (DT) in a complex, multi-step decision-making task. The results showed that the use of a DSS significantly improved the accuracy of the decision-making process compared to the use of a DT. The authors also found that the use of a DSS significantly reduced the time required to make a decision compared to the use of a DT. The authors conclude that the use of a DSS is a more effective and efficient method for making complex, multi-step decisions than the use of a DT.
