Herodotus,1858 The Leader Maker Harald Psaridis,2014-03-03

Many believe they know what makes a leader and how people should really be led Harald Psaridis acquired this experience through over 20 years of hard work and built up one of Europe s largest financial services organisations with a turnover of over fivebillion euros The man from the real world of work radically challenges accepted management theory and offers concrete solutions which he himself has tested and carried out hundreds of times This is leading by attraction which draws people nearer rather than pressurising them His Frontline Leadership method takes us into a world as we would want it where leadership characters are respected and esteemed thanks to their integrity their values and their sense of responsibility And who thus inspire their colleagues to deliver their best performance

Brône,Jeroen Vandaele,2009-05-05 For more than two decades now cognitive science has been making overtures to literature and literary studies Only recently however cognitive linguistics and poetics seem to be moving towards a more serious and reciprocal type of interdisciplinarity In coupling cognitive linguistics and poetics cognitive poeticians aim to offer cognitive readings of literary texts and formulate specific hypotheses concerning the relationship between aesthetic meaning effects and patterns in the cognitive construal and processing of literary texts One of the basic assumptions of the endeavour is that some of the key topics in poetics such as the construction of text worlds characterization narrative perspective distancing discourse etc may be fruitfully approached by applying cognitive linguistic concepts and insights such as embodied cognition metaphor mental spaces iconicity construction grammar figure ground alignment etc in an attempt to support enrich or adjust traditional poetic analysis Conversely the tradition of poetics may support frame or call into question insights from cognitive linguistics In order to capture the goals gains and gaps of this rapidly growing interdisciplinary field of research this volume brings together some of the key players and critics of cognitive poetics The eleven chapters are grouped into four major sections each dealing with central concerns of the field i the cognitive mechanisms discursive means and mental products related to narrativity Semino Herman Culpeper ii the different incarnations of the concept of figure in cognitive poetics Freeman Steen Tsur iii the procedures that are meant to express or create discursive attitudes like humour irony or distance in general Antonopoulou and Nikiforidou Dancygier and Vandelanotte Giora et al and iv a critical assessment of the current state of affairs in cognitive poetics and more specifically the incorporation of insights from cognitive linguistics as only one of the contributing fields in the interdisciplinary conglomerate of cognitive science Louwerse and Van Peer Sternberg The ensuing dialogue between cognitive and literary partners as well as between advocates and opponents is promoted through the use of short response articles included after ten chapters of the volume Geert Br ne Katholieke Universiteit Leuven Belgium Jeroen Vandaele University of Oslo Norway with exclusive entry barriers lending the investigation to the tools of economic theory Empirical data were the grist for this dissertation grounding the study in anthropology Since prehistoric times art production was integrated into making a living Improving the aesthetics of objects was a means of increasing the demand or value for the object Today aesthetic appeal has segmented the Indian art marketplace into high versus low valued products and the producers can be distinguished by their willingness to accept risk Unique expensive artwork enters a luxury market where imperfect information about the value of the artwork often makes the price of the object a measure of value Producers of high value art fit tournament models in which those who win competitive prizes earn market popularity and consequently higher incomes Quantity oriented and usually risk averse producers who are subject to expected supply and demand outcomes support the curio market The performance of this industry hinges on the unique marketplace that limits the number of producers allowed market entry Authenticity determined by legally proven ethnicity acts as a brand name differentiating one product from its competitors Some artists perceive the brand as a ceiling limiting artistic freedom and access to better prices Others rely on this special status as a market sanctuary This dissertation documents the Indian art market focusing on the struggles and strategies American Indian artists employ to earn livings and dignity It unveils dreams desires and responses to a specialized market that continues to support many who have adopted schemes that are wholly their own
