Learning From Text Across Conceptual Domains

Cynthia R. Hynd, 2013-12-16 This volume is an attempt to synthesize the understandings we have about reading to learn Although learning at all ages is discussed in this volume the main focus is on middle and high school classrooms critical spaces of learning and thinking The amount of knowledge presented in written form is increasing and the information we get from texts is often conflicting We are in a knowledge explosion that leaves us reeling and may effectively disenfranchise those who are not keeping up There has never been a more crucial time for students to understand learn from and think critically about the information in various forms of text Thus understanding what it means to learn is vital for all educators Learning from text is a complex matter that includes student factors social ethnic and cultural differences as well as varying motivations self perceptions goals and needs instructional and teacher factors and disciplinary and social factors One important goal of the book is to encourage practicing teachers to learn to consider their students in new ways to see them as being influenced by and as influencing not just the classroom but the total fabric of the disciplines they are learning Equally important it is intended to foster further research efforts from local studies of classrooms by teachers to large scale studies that produce generalizable understandings about learning from text This volume a result of the editor s and contributors work with the National Reading Research Center will be of interest to all researchers graduate students practicing teachers and teachers in training who are interested in understanding the issues that are central to improving students learning from text

Readings in Science Methods, K-8 Eric Brunzell, 2008 If you re teaching an introductory science education course in a college or university Readings in Science Methods K 8 with its blend of theory research and examples of best practices can serve as your only text your primary text or a supplemental text

Talking Texts Rosalind Horowitz, 2017-09-25 This volume examines how oral and written language function in school learning and how oral texts can be successfully interconnected to the written texts that are used on a daily basis in schools Rather than argue for the prominence of one over the other the goal is to help the reader gain a rich understanding of how both might work together to create a new discourse that ultimately creates new knowledge Talking Texts Provides historical background for the study of talk and text Presents examples of children s and adolescents natural conversations as analyzed by linguists Addresses talk as it interfaces with domains of knowledge taught in schools to show how talk is related to and may be influenced by the structure language and activities of a specific discipline Bringing together seminal lines of research to create a cohesive picture of discourse issues germane to classrooms and other learning settings this volume is an essential resource for researchers graduate students classroom teachers and curriculum specialists across the fields of discourse studies literacy and English education composition studies language development sociolinguistics and applied linguistics

Children's Early Text Construction Clotilde Pontecorvo, Margherita Orsolini, Barbara Burge, Lauren B. Resnick, 2014-02-04 For decades research on children s literacy has been dominated by questions of how children learn to read Especially among Anglophone scholars cognitive and psycholinguistic research on reading has been the only approach to studying written language education Echoing this debates on methods of teaching children to read have long dominated the educational scene This book presents an alternative view In recent years writing has emerged as a central aspect of becoming literate Research in cognitive psychology has shown that writing is a highly complex activity involving a degree of planning unknown in everyday conversational uses of language At the same time developmental studies have revealed that when young children are asked to write they show a surprisingly sophisticated understanding of the representational constraints of alphabetic writing systems They show this understanding long before they can read conventional writing on their own The rich structure of meanings involved in the word text provided the glue that brought together a group of scholars from several disciplines in an international workshop held in Rome Reflecting the state of the field at the time the majority of the workshop participants were scholars working in languages other than English especially the romance languages Their work mirrors a linguistic and psychological research tradition that Anglophone scholars knew little of until recently This volume provides English language readers with updated versions of the papers presented at the meeting The topics discussed at the workshop are represented in the chapters as follows the relationship between acquisition of language and familiarity with written texts the reciprocal permeability between spoken and written language the initial phases of text construction by children and the educational conditions that facilitate written language acquisition and writing practice Reading Comprehension Research Helene M. Anthony, 1989 Resources in Education, 2001-10 Elementary and Middle School Social Studies Pamela J. Farris, 2024-01-11 The eighth edition continues to be an invaluable resource for creative strategies and proven techniques to teach social studies Pamela Farris's popular reasonably priced book aids classroom teachers in inspiring students to be engaged learners and to build on their prior knowledge The book is comprehensive and easy to understand providing instruction sensitive to the needs of all elementary and middle school learners Creative concepts for teaching diverse learners Strategies for incorporating the C3 Framework to enrich K-8 curriculum Integration of inquiry skills with literacy and language arts skills Multifaceted meaningful activities emphasize problem solving decision making and critical thinking Myriad ideas for incorporating primary sources as well as technology Annotated lists of children's literature at the end of each chapter Multicultural focus throughout the broad coverage of history geography civics and economics NCSS Standards Linked Lesson Plans C3 Framework Plans and Interdisciplinary Thematic Units Social studies explores the variety and complexity of human experience The book emphasizes the value of social studies in preparing students to become valuable community members and to participate respectfully in a diverse society
