Objective: the objective of this project is to use the Narrative mode of writing to create a reflection of a series of memories that occurred during your Middle School experience. As you transition to High School, or any big transition in life, it always serves one to look back and remember what has happened and the change that occurred. However, you are the storyteller and get to add your interpretation of life's events.

Logistics: you are to write a 3-5 page, double spaced, 12 point font Memoir. This is a long-term assignment, homework coupons will be accepted on the deadlines except for the Rough Draft and Final Draft. If you find you need more time, please plan to come to school early, stay after, or make arrangements to work from the public library.

Organization: your Memoir must have some form of organization that is logical to a three year story. This should be one of the most important issues you consider when formulating your thoughts into your Memoir. Whether it be chapters, similar themes amongst all three grades, etc.

Gang Member* in 1993 generated a huge amount of excitement in literary circles New York Times book critic Michiko Kakutani deemed it a shocking and galvanic book and set off a new publishing trend of gang memoirs in the 1990s. The memoirs showcased tales of violent confrontation and territorial belonging but also offered many of the first journalistic and autobiographical accounts of the much mythologized gang subculture. In The Culture and Politics of Contemporary Street Gang Memoirs, Josephine Metcalf focuses on three of these memoirs: Shakur's Monster, Luis J. Rodriguez's Always Running: La Vida Loca, Gang Days in L.A. and Stanley Tookie Williams's Blue Rage, Black Redemption as key representatives of the gang autobiography. Metcalf examines the conflict among violence, thrilling sensationalism, and the authorial desire to instruct and warn, competing within these works. The narrative arcs of the memoirs themselves rest on the process of conversion from brutal young gang bangers to nonviolent enlightened citizens. Metcalf analyzes the emergence, production, marketing, and reception of gang memoirs. Through interviews with Rodriguez, Shakur, and Barbara Cottman Becnel, Williams's editor, Metcalf reveals both the writing and publishing processes. This book analyzes key narrative conventions, specifically how diction, dialogue, and narrative arcs shape the works. The book also explores how these memoirs are consumed. This interdisciplinary study, fusing literary criticism, sociology, ethnography, reader response study, and editorial theory, brings scholarly attention to a popular, much discussed but understudied modern expression.

A Terrible, Horrible, No Good Year Six-Word Memoirs, Teachers, Students & Parents, Larry Smith, 2021. For some, this book will be a window; for others, a mirror of their own experience. Memoirs of the National Academy of Sciences, National Academy of Sciences (U.S.), 1926. Each volume comprises one or more monographs, many of which are issued also as separate.

The Curse of Iqbal: Memoir of a Ship Broker's Son, Robert Stephen Hamlin, 2014-10-01. Even as a little kid, the author harbored visions of becoming a writer or perhaps a gym teacher. Those dreams were deemed insufficiently ambitious to his parents, who had experienced the Great Depression firsthand. They gave all three of their children the best education money could buy. Over two centuries ago, the poet William Wordsworth's My Heart Leaps Up wrote, "The child is father of the man." For the author of this memoir, studying the poets of the Romantic era of English literature was the highlight of all his many years of schooling. And the dreams of the child never were completely snuffed out. Through the twists and turns of a young man becoming an adult, the author became subject to the draft lottery instituted to insure the country had an adequate supply of men to fight the North Vietnamese. However, before his number ever came up, he found himself in a hospital bed after a week of unconsciousness in the intensive care ward. He had been in a devastating car accident, a head-on collision that killed both driver and passenger of the car that hit him. His injuries turned out to be mostly physical, despite the ominous warning from his neurological surgeon He missed a year to operations physical therapy and relearning to walk but he walked away stronger in body mind and spirit While this book is no misery memoir it does in subtle tones remind the reader that we all are subject to things over which we have no control Seeing life through the prism of paralysis as he did the author long ago adopted an attitude of gratitude and acceptance Buoyed by an indomitable sense of humor and indefatigable spirit through the years he has remained up when many around him are down The informal yet chronological setting of the book will bring you along for many of the voyages the author took in the fifteen or so years after the accident but leaves you at the end quite literally up in the air as he ponders what life has in store for him next Whether the author is travelling by backpack or hunkered down in office suites in Manhattan his optimistic point of view continues to carry him through both loss and recovery through reinvention and rediscovery
