

Verbal Reasoning

Practice Paper

Verbal reasoning is the ability to understand and reason using language that we haven't heard. It assesses a child's ability to think critically using sets of verbal reasoning questions.

Children perform better in verbal reasoning tests if they read widely and have an extensive vocabulary. Reading lots of word games or books can also help your child with verbal reasoning tests. To practise with a table like games, crosswords and word searches.

The types of questions in this paper are about:

- Finding synonyms and antonyms
- Finding words that will complete a word, e.g. word fill ins
- Finding words that make another word, e.g. the word can make words like cannot
- Spotting the odd one out in sets of words

Remember only check and follow the options in representing a different order or version

Look for these letters and find words that complete the words in capital letters in the sentence below. The letters are in the same order as the options below.

The letters are: W E R D

The answer to this question must be W E R D to make the sentence say: "The letters are W E R D." (The letters are W E R D.)

For a challenge, find all words that can be made from the letters in the word W E R D.
